Spalding's Athletic Library

A. G. SPALDING

Anticipating the present tendency of the American people toward a healthful method of living and enjoyment, Spalding's Athletic Library was established in 1892 for the purpose of encouraging athletics in every form, not only by publishing the official rules and records pertaining to the various pastimes, but also by instructing, until to-day Spalding's Athletic Library is unique in its own particular field and has been conceded the greatest educational series on athletic and physical training subjects that has ever been compiled.

The publication of a distinct series of books devoted to athletic sports and pastimes and designed to occupy the premier place in America in its class was an early idea of Mr. A. G. Spalding, who was one of the first in America to publish a handbook devoted to athletic sports, Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide being the initial number, which was followed at intervals with other handbooks on the sports prominent in the '70s.

Spalding's Athletic Library has had the advice and counsel of Mr. A. G. Spalding in all of its undertakings, and particularly in all books devoted to the national game. This applies especially to Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide and Spalding's Official Base Ball Record, both of which receive the personal attention of Mr. A. G. Spalding, owing to his early connection with the game as the leading pitcher of the champion Boston and Chicago teams of 1872-76. His interest does not stop, however, with matters pertaining to base ball; there is not a sport that Mr. Spalding does not make it his business to become familiar with, and that the Library will always maintain its premier place, with Mr. Spalding's able counsel at hand, goes without saying.

The entire series since the issue of the first number has been under the direct personal supervision of Mr. James E. Sullivan, President of the American Sports Publishing Company, and the total series of consecutive numbers reach an aggregate of considerably over three hundred, included in which are many "annuals," that really constitute the history of their particular sport in America year by year, back copies of which are even now eagerly sought for, constituting as they do the really first authentic records of events and official rules that have ever been consecutively compiled.

When Spalding's Athletic Library was founded, seventeen years ago, track and field athletics were practically unknown outside the larger colleges and a few athletic clubs in the leading cities, which gave occasional meets, when an entry list of 250 competitors was a subject of comment; golf was known only by a comparatively few persons; lawn tennis had some vogue and base ball was practically the only established field sport, and that in a professional way; basket ball had just been invented; athletics for the schoolboy—and schoolgirl—were almost unknown, and an advocate of class contests in athletics in the schools could not get a hearing. To-day we find the greatest body of athletes in the world is the Public Schools Athletic League of Greater New York, which has had an entry list at its annual games of over two thousand, and in whose "elementary series" in base ball last year 106 schools competed for the trophy emblematic of the championship.

While Spalding's Athletic Library cannot claim that the rapid growth of athletics in this country is due to it solely, the fact cannot be denied that the books have had a great deal to do with its encouragement, by printing the official rules and instructions for playing the various games at a nominal price, within the reach of everyone, with the sole object that its series might be complete and the one place where a person could look with absolute certainty for the particular book in which he might be interested.

In selecting the editors and writers for the various books, the leading authority in his particular line has been obtained, with the result that no collection of books on athletic subjects can compare with Spalding's Athletic Library for the prominence of the various authors and their ability to present their subjects in a thorough and practical manner.

A short sketch of a few of those who have edited some of the leading numbers of Spalding's Athletic Library is given herewith:

JAMES E. SULLIVAN

President American Sports Publishing Company; entered the publishing house of Frank Leslie in 1878, and has been connected continuously with the publishing business since then and also as athletic editor of various New York papers; was a competing athlete; one of the organizers of the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States; has been actively on its board of governors since its organization until the present time, and President for two successive terms; has attended every championship meeting in America since 1879 and has officiated in some capacity in connection with American amateur championships track and field games for nearly twenty-five years; assistant American director Olympic Games, Paris, 1900; director Pan-American Exposition athletic department, 1901; chief department physical culture Louisiana Purchase Exposition, St. Louis, 1904; secretary American Committee Olympic Games, at Athens, 1906; honorary director of Athletics at Jamestown Exposition, 1907; secretary American Committee Olympic Games, at London, 1908; member of the Pastime A. C., New York; honorary member Missouri A. C., St. Louis; honorary member Olympic A. C., San Francisco; ex-president Pastime A. C., New Jersey A. C., Knickerbocker A. C.; president Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. for fifteen years; president Outdoor Recreation League; with Dr. Luther H. Gulick organized the Public Schools Athletic League of New York, and is now chairman of its games committee and member executive committee; was a pioneer in playground work and one of the organizers of the Outdoor Recreation League of New York; appointed by President Roosevelt as special commissioner to the Olympic Games at Athens, 1906, and decorated by King George I. of the Hellenes (Greece) for his services in connection with the Olympic Games; appointed special commissioner by President Roosevelt to the Olympic Games at London, 1908; appointed by Mayor McClellan, 1908, as member of the Board of Education of Greater New York.

WALTER CAMP

For quarter of a century Mr. Walter Camp of Yale has occupied a leading position in college athletics. It is immaterial what organization is suggested for college athletics, or for the betterment of conditions, insofar as college athletics is concerned, Mr. Camp has always played an important part in its conferences, and the great interest in and high plane of college sport to-day, are undoubtedly due more to Mr. Camp than to any other individual. Mr. Camp has probably written more on college athletics than any other writer and the leading papers and magazines of America are always anxious to secure his expert opinion on foot ball, track and field athletics, base ball and rowing. Mr. Camp has grown up with Yale athletics and is a part of Yale's remarkable athletic system. While he has been designated as the "Father of Foot Ball," it is a well known fact that during his college career Mr. Camp was regarded as one of the best players that ever represented Yale on the base ball field, so when we hear of Walter Camp as a foot ball expert we must also remember his remarkable knowledge of the game of base ball, of which he is a great admirer. Mr. Camp has edited Spalding's Official Foot Ball Guide since it was first published, and also the Spalding Athletic Library book on How to Play Foot Ball. There is certainly no man in American college life better qualified to write for Spalding's Athletic Library than Mr. Camp.

DR. LUTHER HALSEY GULICK

The leading exponent of physical training in America; one who has worked hard to impress the value of physical training in the schools; when physical training was combined with education at the St. Louis Exposition in 1904 Dr. Gulick played an important part in that congress; he received several awards for his good work and had many honors conferred upon him; he is the author of a great many books on the subject; it was Dr. Gulick, who, acting on the suggestion of James E. Sullivan, organized the Public Schools Athletic League of Greater New York, and was its first Secretary; Dr. Gulick was also for several years Director of Physical Training in the public schools of Greater New York, resigning the position to assume the Presidency of the Playground Association of America. Dr. Gulick is an authority on all subjects pertaining to physical training and the study of the child.

JOHN B. FOSTER

Successor to the late Henry Chadwick ("Father of Base Ball") as editor of Spalding's Official Base Ball Guide; sporting editor of the New York Evening Telegram; has been in the newspaper business for many years and is recognized throughout America as a leading writer on the national game; a staunch supporter of organized base ball, his pen has always been used for the betterment of the game.

EDITORS OF SPALDING'S ATHLETIC LIBRARY

TIM MURNANE

Base Ball editor of the Boston Globe and President of the New England League of Base Ball Clubs; one of the best known base ball men of the country; known from coast to coast; is a keen follower of the game and prominent in all its councils; nearly half a century ago was one of America's foremost players; knows the game thoroughly and writes from the point of view both of player and an official.

HARRY PHILIP BURCHELL

Sporting editor of the New York Times; University of Pennsylvania and Columbia University; editor of Spalding's Official Lawn Tennis Annual; is an authority on the game; follows the movements of the players minutely and understands not only tennis but all other subjects that can be classed as athletics; no one is better qualified to edit this book than Mr. Burchell.

GEORGE T. HEPBRON

Former Young Men's Christian Association director; for many years an official of the Athletic League of Young Men's Christian Associations of North America; was connected with Dr. Luther H. Gulick in Young Men's Christian Association work for over twelve years; became identified with basket ball when it was in its infancy and has followed it since, being recognized as the leading exponent of the official rules; succeeded Dr. Gulick as editor of the Official Basket Ball Guide and also editor of the Spalding Athletic Library book on How to Play Basket Ball.

JAMES S. MITCHEL

Former champion weight thrower; holder of numerous records, and is the winner of more championships than any other individual in the history of sport; Mr. Mitchel is a close student of athletics and well qualified to write upon any topic connected with athletic sport; has been for years on the staff of the New York Sun.

EDITORS OF SPALDING'S ATHLETIC LIBRARY

MICHAEL C. MURPHY

The world's most famous athletic trainer; the champion athletes that he has developed for track and field sports, foot ball and base ball fields, would run into thousands; he became famous when at Yale University and has been particularly successful in developing what might be termed championship teams; his rare good judgment has placed him in an enviable position in the athletic world; now with the University of Pennsylvania; during his career has trained only at two colleges and one athletic club, Yale and the University of Pennsylvania and Detroit Athletic Club; his most recent triumph was that of training the famous American team of athletes that swept the field at the Olympic Games of 1908 at London.

DR. C. WARD CRAMPTON

Succeeded Dr. Gulick as director of physical training in the schools of Greater New York; as secretary of the Public Schools Athletic League is at the head of the most remarkable organization of its kind in the world; is a practical athlete and gymnast himself, and has been for years connected with the physical training system in the schools of Greater New York, having had charge of the High School of Commerce.

DR. GEORGE J. FISHER

Has been connected with Y. M. C. A. work for many years as physical director at Cincinnati and Brooklyn, where he made such a high reputation as organizer that he was chosen to succeed Dr. Luther H. Gulick as Secretary of the Athletic League of Y. M. C. A.'s of North America, when the latter resigned to take charge of the physical training in the Public Schools of Greater New York.

DR. GEORGE ORTON

On athletics, college athletics, particularly track and field, foot ball, soccer foot ball, and training of the youth, it would be hard to find one better qualified than Dr. Orton; has had the necessary athletic experience and the ability to impart that experience intelligently to the youth of the land; for years was the American, British and Canadian champion runner.

EDITORS OF SPALDING'S ATHLETIC LIBRARY

FREDERICK R. TOOMBS

A well known authority on skating, rowing, boxing, racquets, and other athletic sports; was sporting editor of American Press Association, New York; dramatic editor; is a lawyer and has served several terms as a member of Assembly of the Legislature of the State of New York; has written several novels and historical works.

R. L. WELCH

A resident of Chicago; the popularity of indoor base ball is chiefly due to his efforts; a player himself of no mean ability; a first-class organizer; he has followed the game of indoor base ball from its inception.

DR. HENRY S. ANDERSON

Has been connected with Yale University for years and is a recognized authority on gymnastics; is admitted to be one of the leading authorities in America on gymnastic subjects; is the author of many books on physical training.

CHARLES M. DANIELS

Just the man to write an authoritative book on swimming; the fastest swimmer the world has ever known; member New York Athletic Club swimming team and an Olympic champion at Athens in 1906 and London, 1908. In his book on Swimming, Champion Daniels describes just the methods one must use to become an expert swimmer.

GUSTAVE BOJUS

Mr. Bojus is most thoroughly qualified to write intelligently on all subjects pertaining to gymnastics and athletics; in his day one of America's most famous amateur athletes; has competed successfully in gymnastics and many other sports for the New York Turn Verein; for twenty years he has been prominent in teaching gymnastics and athletics; was responsible for the famous gymnastic championship teams of Columbia University; now with the Jersey City high schools.

EDITORS OF SPALDING'S ATHLETIC LIBRARY

CHARLES JACOBUS

Admitted to be the "Father of Roque;" one of America's most expert players, winning the Olympic Championship at St. Louis in 1904; an ardent supporter of the game and follows it minutely, and much of the success of roque is due to his untiring efforts; certainly there is no one better qualified to write on this subject than Mr. Jacobus.

DR. E. B. WORMAN

Well known as a physical training expert; was probably one of the first to enter the field and is the author of many books on the subject; lectures extensively each year all over the country.

W. J. CROMIE

Now with the University of Pennsylvania; was formerly a Y. M. C. A. physical director; a keen student of all gymnastic matters; the author of many books on subjects pertaining to physical training.

G. M. MARTIN

By profession a physical director of the Young Men's Christian Association; a close student of all things gymnastic, and games for the classes in the gymnasium or clubs.

PROF. SENAC

A leader in the fencing world; has maintained a fencing school in New York for years and developed a great many champions; understands the science of fencing thoroughly and the benefits to be derived therefrom.

The New Editor of the Guide

In securing the services of Mr. Frederick Fitzmaurice Kelly as editor of SPALDING'S OFFICIAL CRICKET GUIDE, with Flannery's Cricket Annual, the publishers of the Guide appreciate the fact that they have secured the foremost authority on the game in America, and under Mr. Kelly's editorship hope to make the Guide rival in size and popularity the books in the Spalding Athletic Library that are devoted to what are classed as distinctively American pastimes.

The writer has had a long acquaintance with Mr. Kelly, especially in the halcyon days of the old New Jersey Athletic Club at Bergen Point, N. J., when such well known followers of the sport as the late James Boyd, who did so much for the game in America; M. R. Cobb, Archie Gunn, Alex Forbes, John Forbes, and others composed the membership, but that Mr. Kelly's qualifications may be known to all a short account of his career is appended.

Frederick Fitzmaurice Kelly, was born at Cannanore in the East Indies and was educated in England, where he took up the game of cricket while attending school. For over thirty years he has been a successful left-hand bowler, both in England and the United States. In 1888 Mr. Kelly came to America and settled in Chicago, where for five years he kept up his reputation for good work as a cricketer. In 1894 he came to New York and joined the old New Jersey Athletic Club, and has remained here ever since. Mr. Kelly has been chosen to represent practically every New York team that tried for international honors, and was captain of the team in 1903. Mr. Kelly is one of the foremost of cricket statisticians, and the game in America owes him a great deal in that respect. He was for two years secretary of the Chicago Cricket Association, has for eleven years occupied the same post in the Metropolitan District Cricket League of New York, and this year, on the formation of the New York and New Jersey Cricket Association, was persuaded to take the secretaryship of that organization also. He has for years held the secretaryship of the Staten Island Cricket Club, and fills the same post for the New York Veterans' Cricket Club.

CRICKET IN PHILADELPHIA.

BY H. H. CORNISH.

With the exception of the visit of the Ottawa Cricket Club and the usual tour of the New York Veterans the Philadelphia cricket season of 1910 was a decidedly quiet one. Owing to the failure of Canada to send down a team for the annual game between the United States and Canada there was not an international contest of any kind. However, the season was quite a successful one as far as the cup competitions were concerned, and the interest was sustained until the close.

The Belmont Cricket Club repeated its success of the previous year in carrying off the Halifax Cup, but the feat was not accomplished without a keen struggle with Germantown and Merion, who were tied for second place. No records were set up in the competition, but the all-around play of Willard Graham, the Belmont left-hander, was the outstanding feature of the season. In carrying off the Childs' Cups for both batting and bowling he earned the right to have his name bracketed with J. B. King, who previously was the only man who had won the two cups in one year. King first won them in 1902, but repeated the feat in 1904 and again in 1908. In batting Graham was a long way ahead of the field, as his average of 56.40 was exactly 11 runs better than that of J. L. Evans of Merion, who occupied second place. In bowling Graham's figures were 25 wickets at a cost of 10.56 runs apiece. In addition to this, Graham had the honor of making the highest score of the season, 173, against Moorestown. Others who did well in the Halifax Cup competition were J. L. Evans, J. B. King, F. S. White and S. W. Midlin, each of whom had a batting average of over forty. Twelve bowlers in addition to Graham captured twenty wickets or more. They were A. G. Priestman, J. B. King, H. N. Heulings, H. W. Middleton, R. Waad, Jr., W. M. Fellows, W. P. Newhall, L. Lee, R. Patton, A. S. Valentine, P. H. Clark and Smith.

For the Philadelphia Cup there was quite a keen contest, Team C of Merion capturing the trophy after being closely pushed all the way by Teams B and C of Germantown. The honors in batting were carried off by C. V. Thackara of Germantown Team C, with an average of 44.37. W. C. Shipley of Germantown Team B was second, with 41.55, and W. B. Hughes, Merion Team C, was third, with 41.00. The latter's figures are somewhat misleading, however, as he played only five innings and was not out in three of them. Very gratifying was the form displayed by S. G. Thayer, Merion Team C. The veteran played ten innings, was twice not out, scored 315 runs, and had an average of 39.37.

J. K. Garrigues, Merion Team C, did excellent work with the ball and thoroughly deserved his position at the head of the averages with a record of 27 wickets obtained at a cost of 10.51 runs apiece. There was quite a hot race for second position between those old reliables, G. B. Robinson and R. L. Perot, both of Germantown Team C. Each took 23 wickets, but Robinson just captured the position with an average of 10.91 as against 11.04 by Perot.

A novel scheme was tried by the Associated Cricket Club during the season. After much deliberation it was decided to do away with the 1, Gunn; 2, Hayman; 3, Tattersall; 4, Prodergast; 5, Cunwell; 6, Bellug; 7, Mauley; 8, Pacey; 9, Street; 10, Danby; 11, Bretz; 12, Deane; 13, Kelly; 14, Kaye.

Associated Cricket Club's Cup Competition on Saturdays and to play Wednesday games instead under the following rules: "Each match to commence at 2.30 P. M. and play to continue until 7. The side winning the toss to bat first and continues batting for two hours and ten minutes. An interval of ten minutes to be allowed between the innings, and then the second side bats for two hours and ten minutes. Should the first side be dismissed before the time limit the other side is to be permitted to go on batting. In the event of the second side being dismissed before 6.20, the time will be equally divided up between the two teams. Each side to be permitted to play one professional." Although this was only an experiment the scheme worked very well indeed. The clubs participating were: The Pilgrims, the Merion Cricket Club, the Germantown Cricket Club, the Belmont Cricket Club, the Philadelphia Cricket Club, Frankford-Moores-town and the Inter-State League. Many very interesting games were played and eventually Frankford-Moores-town carried off the trophy. An extraordinary record was set up by B. Saddington of the Frankford-Moores-town team. He batted in seven innings, was six times not out, scored 177 runs, and had an average of 177. This is the highest average secured by a Philadelphian in any cup competition.

The Inter-State and St. George's Leagues enjoyed wonderfully successful seasons and the cricket played by the teams was undoubtedly on a higher plane than ever before. Lighthouse won the championship of the first division of the Inter-State League with consummate ease, winning nine matches, losing only one, and drawing two. West Philadelphia Team B carried off the championship of the second division with the fine record of fourteen games won, three lost and one drawn. J. E. Pike of Lighthouse was first in the batting averages in the first division, with an average of 30.87 runs per innings. W. Brooke, also of Lighthouse, occupied first place in bowling, with 46 wickets obtained at a cost of 6.36 runs apiece. G. H. Lockwood, Lighthouse Team B, was first in batting in the second division, with 16.86 runs for each innings. Five bowlers took over fifty wickets during the season and H. Grant, Germantown Sons of St. George, and W. Ashworth, Falls Team B, had wonderful averages. The former took exactly 50 wickets at a cost of 3.62 runs apiece and the latter 63 wickets at a cost of 3.82 runs each.

Albion No. 22 easily secured the championship of the St. George's League, with a record of ten matches won, one lost and one tie game. J. Allen, Albion No. 22, easily led the batsmen with an average of 22 runs an innings. A. Stockdale of the same club was the leading bowler, with 39 wickets at a cost of 2.07 runs each.

Apart from cup cricket the season was rendered very enjoyable through the visit of the Ottawa Cricket Club and the New York Veterans. The former toured Philadelphia from July 19 to 29, inclusive, and in that time played five matches. Of these Ottawa won one, lost one, and three were drawn.

In the game against Belmont, W. Johnston played a very fine innings of 153 and established a record for a Canadian batsman in the United States.

The New York Veterans visited Philadelphia with a strong team in July. They lost the first game to the Philadelphia Cricket Club Veterans at St. Martin's on July 11 by 12 runs, drew with Germantown Veterans on July 12, easily defeated Belmont Veterans on July 13 by 198 runs, lost to Merion Veterans on July 14 by 8 runs, drew with All-Philadelphia Veterans at St. Martin's on July 15, and defeated the Philadelphia Colts at St. Martin's by 63 runs.

The feature of the tour was the batting of Sydney Deane. He played six innings and his scores were as follows: 45, 35, 114, 59, 74 and 62. This gave him a total of 389 runs and an average of 64.83. Added to this he topped the bowling averages with 16 wickets at a cost of 13.25 runs apiece.

One very important innovation was introduced during the season by the Philadelphia Cricket Club. This was the holding of a junior tournament at St. Martin's on September 12, 13, 14 and 15. For the last three or four seasons the cry has gone up that it was becoming more and more difficult to interest juniors in cricket, but it must be confessed that the inducements held out to them had not been particularly great. However, the Philadelphia Cricket Club proved beyond a doubt that the youngsters were keen enough when it was proved to them that the seniors did take an interest in them and were willing to devote a considerable amount of time and trouble in making the tournament a success. That it was a huge success there can be no doubt, and the boys showed a keenness and enthusiasm from start to finish that was decidedly hopeful for the future of the game. Four teams entered—the Philadelphia Juniors, the Merion Juniors, the Germantown Juniors and the Belmont Juniors. At the conclusion of the tournament Merion and Philadelphia were tied for the handsome trophy donated by the Philadelphia Cricket Club and a play-off was necessary. This was easily won by Merion by 311 runs. In this match L. V. H. Thomas hit up 182 runs for Merion, a record in junior cricket, and P. Lee made 124. The total of 408 made by Merion was also a record for junior cricket. In addition to these performances mention must be made of the bowling of M. Duncan of Belmont. This promising young cricketer took 15 wickets in the tournament at a cost of 3.20 runs each and against Merion captured 7 wickets for 11 runs. The tournament was such an unqualified success that the Philadelphia Cricket Club has decided to make it an annual affair.

GERMANTOWN CRICKET CLUB.

President, E. W. Clark; Secretary, Joseph Wayne, Jr.; Treasurer, William B. Kurtiz.

The season of 1910 was, in some respects, a disappointing one to the cricketers of the club, as at one time it seemed probable that the club might win the Halifax Cup, the Philadelphia Cup and the Radnor Cup. The "A" and "B" teams lost games at the end of the season which they had hoped to win, and cost the club the Halifax and Philadelphia Cups. The "A" team at the end of the season was tied with Merion for second place in the Halifax Cup competition, Belmont winning the cup, while the "B" and "C" teams were tied for second place in the Philadelphia Cup competition, Merion winning that cup. The only team of the club to come out on top in its competition was the First Eleven Juniors, which had a fine record, winning four games and losing one, thereby winning the Radnor Cup.

In reviewing the season's cricket, the most satisfactory thing is the creditable record of Team B and the First Eleven Juniors. Team B was composed almost entirely of younger men, their fielding was particularly fine, and their creditable work and that of the Juniors bodes well for the future of the club cricket.

A number of the friends of the late William Brookie presented the club with a handsome cup in his memory, which is to be put up for annual competition and awarded to the player having the best batting record in Halifax Cup cricket. During the past season the cup was won by F. S. White with an average of 41.37. Mr. White, in addition to having the best average of the Halifax Cup players, secured the largest aggregate of runs (331) and made the highest individual score (107 against Belmont). A. G. Priestman had the best bowling average (12.42) of the Halifax Cup players and also took the greatest number of wickets (29).

In the Philadelphia Cup competition W. C. Shipley and C. V. Thackara ran a close race for the best batting record, the former having an average for eight innings of 45.7 with an aggregate of 366 runs, while the latter had an average for eight innings of 44.4 with an aggregate of 355 runs. Mr. Thackara's highest score was 126 and Mr. Shipley's 121. The batting of J. O. Godwin, Jr. and R. Anderson, who played four innings each with averages of 73 and 37, respectively, was also worthy of mention. The bowling honors in the Philadelphia Cup competition were shared by G. B. Robinson, who, playing for the "C" team, took 22 wickets with an average of 11.5, and W. L. Cauffman, who, playing for the "B" team, took 31 wickets with an average of 12.4.

For several years the active cricketers of the club have expressed the hope that a team representing the club might be sent to England. The interest in the project seemed so great that a number of the more prominent players were sounded to see whether if a team was sent, they could go. So many favorable answers were received that the Cricket Committee, with the consent of the Board, has undertaken to send a team representing the club to play a month's cricket in England during the season of 1911. Mr. Findlay, the Secretary of the Surrey County Cricket Club, has kindly consented to arrange a schedule of games, and has already started to do so. It is proposed to have the team leave here shortly after the middle of July and to return about September 1, which will give time for a little over four weeks of cricket. The plan is to play two two-day games and a one-day game each week, which will give a day each week for sight-seeing and rest. Only club cricket will be played and no attempt will be made to meet the county or semi-professional teams. This team will be sent abroad without expense to the club.

The averages of those playing in the Halifax, Philadelphia and Radnor Cup competitions is given as follows:

INTERSCHOLASTIC CRICKET LEAGUE OF PHILADELPHIA.

BY ROBERT LEA PEROT.

The Committee upon Allied Sports of the University of Pennsylvania have been requested to award the plaque offered for the first time by the Athletic Association to the William Penn Charter School, who played all their games, winning 80 per cent.

The prize bat for highest batting average is to be awarded to J. Howard Savage, Jr., of Northeast Manual, with an average of 20.66.

The prize bat offered by H. H. Cornish for the highest bowling average is to be awarded to Robert Pilling Anderson of Penn Charter, with an average of 3.36.

Messrs. Savage and Anderson also are the winners of the prize sweaters to be presented by the Interscholastic Cricket League, while the eleven members of the Penn Charter team winning the championship, as selected by that school, are to receive the neckties, also offered by the league to the team winning the championship. These ties are to be made in the colors of the league, jasmine and primrose, and will be ordered as soon as the Executive Council can hold a meeting.

MERION CRICKET CLUB.

Including two junior elevens, the Merion Cricket Club had five teams in the field during the past season. The First Eleven took second place in the Halifax Cup competition, losing both their matches to Belmont and one to Germantown.

The Third Eleven was more successful and finished on top in the Philadelphia Cup competition and the First Juniors were second in the Junior Cup and the Second Juniors won the First Cup for the second year in succession.

The Junior Eleven also won the Special Cup at the cricket tournament of the Philadelphia Cricket Club in August and also created a record by scoring over 400 runs in the final match against Philadelphia

UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA CRICKET CLUB.

Juniors. L. V. H. Thomas scored 182 and P. Lee 124 in the match, the longest stand made in junior cricket in Philadelphia, making 264 runs for fall of fifth wicket.

The main features of the season were the matches with Belmont, when, after putting on a score of 345 against the bowling of King and W. Graham, they were defeated by three wickets, and, in contrast to their previous performance, they completely collapsed in the second match, being dismissed for the paltry score of 47. Against Philadelphia they made their highest score of 433, of which J. L. Evans made 143 and C. C. Morris 78.

The batting of the teams was fairly consistent, but the bowling was weak. H. G. Pearce was bowling very well indeed until he injured his hand in June and could not bowl for the remainder of the season, and of the others, L. Lee and R. Patton were nothing like so good as in previous seasons, and Captain Morice, although he kept a good length, seemed unable to get wickets.

PHILADELPHIA CUP.

COMPILED BY W. A. ALLISON.

The averages of the leading men in both batting and bowling in the Philadelphia Cup competition were remarkably good last season.

In batting, C. V. Thackara, Germantown Team C, holds pride of place with the very fine average of 44.37 for eight completed innings. He was also one of the few men to score a century in the competition during the season. W. C. Shipley, another Germantown man, was second with 41.55 for nine completed innings, and he, too, had a century to his credit. W. B. Hughes, Merion, was third bat. He played in only five innings, three of which were not out. His figures of 41.00 per innings are somewhat flattering. S. J. Thayer, Merion, played very consistently throughout the season and, although he was not among the century makers, his average was only just under forty.

J. K. Garrigues, Merion, headed the bowling averages. He took 27 wickets for 284 runs, giving him an average of 10.51 runs. G. B. Robinson and R. L. Perot, both of Germantown, were second and third, respectively, but their records are almost identical. Robinson took 23 wickets for 251 runs and Perot 23 for 254 runs, giving the former an average of 10.91 and the latter one of 11.04.

W. L. Cauffman, Germantown, took the greatest number of wickets and, with 31 at an average cost of 12.38 runs per wicket, stood sixth on the list. The averages follow:

THE LIGHTHOUSE CRICKET CLUB.

Grounds, Front Street and Erie Avenue.

President, J. L. Cumming; Vice-President, W. White, Sr.; Treasurer, A. Gill; Financial Secretary, J. Procter; Corresponding Secretary, W. H. Walker, 2966 North Hancock Street.

The Lighthouse Cricket Club "A" team won the North American Cup, representing the championship of the Inter-State Cricket League for the season of 1910.

John E. Pike won the league medal for the best batting average and was fourth in the bowling. Wilfred Brooke won the league medal for the best bowling average and was third in batting, while George H. Lockwood won the medal for the highest batting average in the second division of the league.

The club had a team in each division of the Inter-State Cricket League; in the first division they played 12 games, of which they won 9, lost 1 and drawn 2. Second division played 18, won 9, lost 8 and drawn 1.

The following are the batting and bowling averages of those members who qualified for the League medals:

PILGRIM CRICKET CLUB OF PHILADELPHIA.

President, G. S. Patterson; Secretary-Treasurer, H. P. Bailey.

In regard to the history of the Pilgrims: The members of the Philadelphia cricket team playing in England during the summer of 1903, held a meeting in Edinburgh on August 9. At this meeting they organized themselves into a club and adopted the name of "Philadelphia Pilgrims." The membership of this club is to be drawn from those cricketers who have represented Philadelphia in matches against English, Irish and Australian teams, either at home or abroad, and who, in the opinion of the elective committee, have earned their places on the representative Philadelphia team.

The object for which the club was organized is the advancement of the best interests of Philadelphia cricket. It is hoped by the members that the club will be able to exercise a beneficial influence on Philadelphia cricket, and be able to encourage cricket outside of Philadelphia by sending teams of club members away from Philadelphia to play games. It is also hoped that by reason of the prominence of the members of the club in cricket circles, it will soon have a recognized position, and that election to membership will be eagerly sought after by the younger men first coming into Philadelphia representative cricket and earning their places on the team.

The club extends honorary membership to those who have been known as deeply interested in cricket and who have devoted both time and energy to upholding the good cause in the advancement of this great game.

The Pilgrims have offered a prize for the best performance in bowling, batting and fielding in international matches played either in Philadelphia or abroad.

The Pilgrims have made several cricketing trips and often have games in Philadelphia with teams from visiting cities. The following are the active and honorary members:

Active Members—Douglass H. Adams, H. P. Bally, F. H. Bates, L. Biddle, F. H. Bohlen, F. E. Brewster, H. I. Brown, R. D. Brown, E. W. Clark, H. L. Clark, P. H. Clark, E. M. Cregar, N. Etting, J. L. PITTSBURG FIELD CRICKET CLUB.

Chairman, R. Muse; Honorary Secretary, T. Clement; Assistant Secretary, J. B. Hanna; Treasurer, Thomas Watkins; Captain, John Bissell; Vice-Captain, George Macpherson.

Games played 12; won 6, lost 2, drawn 3, tied 1.

The Pittsburg Field Club cricketers had an exceedingly successful season in 1910, winning 6 games, losing 2 and drawing 4.

The season was marked by an exceedingly close race between J. Bissell and H. Livingston for the batting honors, Livingston winning out by a decimal point. The bowling was won by H. Livingston, closely followed by H. Slack.

The feature of the year was the Eastern tour in July, when the locals played teams in New York, Staten Island, Jersey City and Brooklyn, coming back to Smoketown with the clean record of no losses and three draws, out of a series of six games.

The members of the team here take the advantage of publicly mentioning the warm reception and good sportsmanship that was accorded to them by the Eastern teams and to assure them that the Pittsburg team will always be glad to see them in the Smoky City.

Attached is a record of averages:

New York Veterans Cricket Association

Because of the unusually long schedule, which comprised sixty-one fixtures, and the feeling of general good-fellowship among the members, most of whom are affiliated with some other club in the metropolis, the New York Veterans Cricket Association enjoyed in 1910 the most successful season since its organization. The programme would have been considerably larger, but the bad weather in May and June caused the cancellation of a number of engagements.

A tour was arranged in Philadelphia, where the team broke even, winning two, losing two and drawing two. Here Sydney Deane displayed remarkable form with the bat and scored the only century for the association, with 104, against the Belmont Veterans. Matches also were played with Ottawa, Pittsburg, Schenectady, the Germantown Colts and West Philadelphia. Only one game was lost in the championship series of the New York and New Jersey Cricket Association.

Aside from Deane the best work with the willow was shown by F. Butler, F. J. Prendergast, J. N. Escobal, G. W. Hayman, Dr. C. C. Beling, H. L. Ross, R. J. Danby, J. S. Bretz, J. H. Briggs, A. Boddington and Archie Gunn. In bowling J. H. Briggs, F. F. Kelly, O. Turville, C. C. Beling, F. J. Prendergast and G. W. Hayman excelled. The "hat trick" was accomplished twice by O. Turville against the Crescent A.C., and by F. F. Kelly against the Belmont Veterans. The record of J. H. Briggs, who captured over one hundred wickets for the association, was unusual, and in all matches played by him he took a total of 120 wickets and scored 853 runs.

The members give a great deal of credit to F. Butler for the splendid creases he provided on the new grounds of the association on the Manor road, West New Brighton. J. S. Bretz handled the team with good judgment, and on several occasions pulled the team out of impending defeat. Captain Bretz spared neither time nor money in the interest of the association. The following is the record of the past season:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Drawn.
Team A.....	27	17	6	4
Team B.....	12	7	3	2
Summer Eleven.....	8	4	1	3

Bensonhurst, with its many league engagements, did well to finish fourth, but the Bellevue and Crescent teams, though they obtained enjoyable cricket, disappointed their friends. J. A. Simpson of the Crescents was placed second to Cobb in the batting records, but his support was woefully weak.

COLUMBIA OVAL CRICKET CLUB.

The season of 1910 was one of the most successful the club has ever had, as, with practically a new team, they won the championship of the Van Cortlandt League and finished the season with an unbeaten record. Out of twelve games played they won nine and three were drawn. This is a remarkable showing, considering the fact that when the season opened several of the prominent members left to join other clubs. Consequently a new team has been built up and one that will bear comparison with any of the former Columbia elevens.

In the league batting eight men got into double figures and the highest average was J. Woodger with 44.60, a newcomer in league cricket and one of the fastest run-getters playing in New York. J. Maskell and W. Mayhew also had fine averages, but they only played in a few innings. The consistent run-getters were H. A. Smith with an average of 15.30 and A. Dovey with an average of 11.30. Each of these batsmen played in ten innings.

In the league bowling H. A. Smith leads, with an average of 24 wickets at a cost of 4.25 per wicket, but the bulk of the work was done by G. S. Shaw, who took 43 wickets, with an average of 4.67. He was also successful in winning the bowling championship in the league series.

In the friendly games, twelve games were played, and the highest average in batting was J. N. Escobal, with an average of 31. He was closely followed by E. Tuppen and J. Seignow with averages of 24 and 22.25, respectively.

In the bowling A. Reid leads, having taken 8 wickets with a cost of 7.12 per wicket, and is followed by G. S. Shaw, who secured 17 wickets at a cost of 9.23 per wicket.

WEST INDIAN CRICKET CLUB.

President, James Harney; Vice-President, L. Boxill; Secretary-Treasurer, James Withey; Recording Secretary, A. Bryan; Captain First Section, George McDermon; Vice-Captain First Section, F. Hinds; Captain Second Section, C. M. Brown; Vice-Captain Second Section, Walter Beckles.

Games played—First Eleven, 9; won 7, lost 0, drawn 2. Second Eleven, 10; won 6, lost 2, drawn 1.

Of nine games contested by the First Eleven of the West Indian Cricket Club during the season of 1910, not one ended in defeat, seven having been won and two drawn. For this splendid showing the club was indebted largely to the work with bat and ball of S. Alleyne, who heads the average both in the batting and bowling departments.

With the bat, S. Alleyne had the fine average of 49.33 for seven innings. H. Holder played another of his back to the wall games, and held the batting average up until September 5, when he was clean bowled for nothing trying to glide a straight ball off the center wicket, but still finished a good second, with an average of 46.25, while F. Hinds, the only player in the club to attain the coveted three figures in a single inning, was placed third with 41.33. R. Cook, the punishing bat of the West Indian Cricket Club, did not bat sufficiently to qualify, but still had a slightly better figure than the above.

That the West Indians were not beaten is not at all remarkable, in view of such a quartette of vigorous batsmen. A. Walcott tried desperately to force his way to the front this summer, but failed to do so, as he did not bat sufficiently to qualify, and could only obtain an average of 31.00, which was also very useful.

F. Hinds is a native of Barbados and has played in the Inter-Colonial matches of the West Indies and against some of the visiting teams of England. He visited England in 1903 with the picked team representing Barbados and proved himself a first-class all-around cricketer. He returned to his home at the close of the tour and came to America in 1906 and became a member of the West Indian Cricket Club. In 1908 and 1909 Mr. Hinds made several centuries, and on July 4, 1910, at Trenton, N. J., against the Trenton Cricket Club, Hinds celebrated the national holiday by scoring 103, not out, the only player of the club to attain the three figures in a single inning.

Of ten matches contested by the Second Eleven, the West Indians won six, lost three and drew one. Here again, chief honors fall to C. Jervis, heading the batting with 25.66, and the bowling with an average of 8.45. W. Beckles was a good second in batting and E. Clark and A. Gage did well in trundling.

SCHENECTADY CRICKET CLUB.

The season of 1910 opened up brightly, with lots of enthusiasm, but from a cricketing standpoint was only fairly successful. Early in the season they were unfortunate in losing the services of Henry Allen and W. F. Keenan, Jr., Vice-Captain and Treasurer, while A. S. Durrant was away for the greater part of the season. The loss of these players was severely felt.

Of twenty games scheduled, five had to be abandoned at different stages on account of rain, while the three most important games on the home ground with teams from New York City were called off at the last moment by our opponents. This left only six games in Schenectady for the entire season, and as these were principally with local teams, enthusiasm ebbed very low.

Of the twelve games played out, six comprised the annual New York trip, which this year extended over a whole week. Of these six games one was won, one was drawn and four were lost.

The performance of the team on this trip was much better than the above figures would indicate, for at no time was Schenectady badly defeated, although opposed by strong teams, particularly those representing the New York Veterans and Staten Island.

The best batting performances during the season were: A. S. Durrant, 101 retired, vs. Brooklyn C.C., at Prospect Park; N. McCaffrey (Toronto), 57 retired, vs. Brooklyn C.C., at Prospect Park; E. J. Gregson, 61, vs. Kings County, at Prospect Park; A. E. Freshman, 68 not out, vs. Ilion C.C., at Schenectady.

The best bowling performances were: A. E. Freshman, 6 wickets for 4 runs, vs. American Locomotive Company; W. A. Reece, 6 wickets for 64 runs, vs. Staten Island, at Staten Island; A. E. Freshman, 7 wickets for 31 runs, vs. Amsterdam, at Amsterdam.

Sunderland. One for the best individual score against the Schenectady team (our keenest opponents), was won by J. Toon with a score of 24. One for the best individual bowling feats against Schenectady was won by A. Palmer, who took 4 wickets for 9 runs.

I might say that we have one of the best teams in the Mohawk Valley, as our record will show, and I should certainly like to get into communication with several teams to fill up our schedule for the season of 1911. Our mainstays in the bowling department have been A. Palmer and A. Woodhead, our other bowlers seldom being called upon.

Our leading batsmen have been H. Smith and A. Palmer, though credit is due to the whole team for the clean and sportsmanlike manner in which they play the game. Our officials, too, are certainly deserving of credit for the way in which they have worked to further interest in the game in our locality, and for the way in which they have worked for the interests of the Amsterdam Cricket Club.

NEW JERSEY STATE CRICKET LEAGUE.

Headquarters, Continental Hotel, Newark, N. J.

Honorary President, Arthur E. Rendle, Esq., New York; Honorary Vice-Presidents, Hon. I. Shoenthal, Orange, N. J.; W. Evans, Esq., Kearney, N. J.; Judge Thomas S. Henry, Newark, N. J.; Senator J. Hinchliffe, Paterson, N. J.; A. S. Newbury, Esq., Bound Brook, N. J.; President, R. E. Torrance, Newark C.C.; First Vice-President, John Prescott, Paterson C.C.; Second Vice-President, C. A. de Charleroy, New Jersey A.C.; Secretary-Treasurer, J. G. Fisher, Bound Brook C.C. Executive Committee—Kenneth Mackenzie, Bound Brook C.C.; Frederick Copley, Essex County C.C.; Charles K. Murray, Newark C.C.; C. A. de Charleroy, New Jersey A.C.; Louis Brierley, O. N. T. C.C.; James Kerwin, Paterson C.C.

The championship series of the New Jersey State Cricket League furnished a splendid battle for supremacy up to a certain time, but the Paterson team was evidently a little too strong for their opponents and eventually won out in the last game of the season, played against Bound Brook, winning seven games and suffering three defeats. The O. N. T. Cricket Club of Newark was second, with six victories and four defeats. The New Jersey Athletic Club of Jersey City finished third, Bound Brook fourth, Newark fifth, and Essex County Cricket Club sixth.

P. H. Dampers of the Bound Brook team celebrated his first season in American cricket circles by capturing the New Jersey State League batting championship, as well as the highest aggregate. Mr. Dampers hails originally from South Africa and plays for Bound Brook—a fine all-round player and an acquisition to the State. Two other Bound Brook men did well with the bat, Howland Bowne and F. A. J. Michalowski. Geoffrey O'Hara and Mr. Michalowski did most of the damage for Bound Brook with the ball and stand fourth and seventh, respectively, in the bowling averages of the league.

The Essex County Cricket Club, revived this year, was not always able to rely upon a full team, and did not, therefore, make as good showing in the finals as there is every reason to believe she will for 1911. Messrs. Garbett, Riley, Ellis and Jones worked hard and consistently for the club, but the best results cannot be expected until the coming season.

Early in the season the Newark Cricket Club promised a stiff fight in the pennant race, but disappointed many of their friends by falling behind at the critical moment. E. C. McCall deservedly headed the batsmen with figures of over 17. R. Robertson and R. E. Torrance were his chief supporters. Their bowling was at times of a high standard, and Birch had indeed remarkable figures, capturing 27 wickets at a cost of 5.59, and landing in third rank. J. A. Booth did splendid work in the field.

The New Jersey Athletic Club won five matches out of ten played, the only man reaching over the century mark being C. A. de Charleroy, always a steady, reliable bat, and he was followed by G. A. Robinson, who, unfortunately for the club, was not able to play regularly. The chief strength of this club lays in the bowling of the de Charleroy brothers, Maurice winning the league average with 39 wickets for 144 runs. Toward the end of the season several new members were added that promise a higher place for the Jersey City aggregation next year.

Second place fell to the O. N. T. Cricket Club of Newark, who won it by consistent, strong play throughout the entire season, and as it was they ended only half a point behind Paterson. For his team, in bowling, L. M. Chadwick, with 31 wickets for 190 runs, secured sixth place in the league, as well as a batting average of 16. The O. N. T.'s felt the loss of J. Bardon, who early in the year returned to his home in Ireland. Louis Brierley not only made the highest score of the year, 64, and that against the champions, but has the additional distinction of making the second highest aggregate, pushing Dempers pretty hard for first place, as well as for the highest batting average.

The honors of the State season undoubtedly belong to Paterson, who, for the second time, carried off the championship. Although there was nothing remarkable about the batting of the side, when runs were wanted, there was always someone equal to the occasion. It was the fielding and bowling which won the eleven their matches. Messrs. Pendlebury, Everall and Bunce did remarkably well with the bat, while Captain Horace Smith was responsible for the most wickets, capturing 30 at a cost of only 4.50 apiece, and getting second place in the league. Toward the end of the season a new member, Frank Troughton, began to loom up strongly as a run-getting batter and puzzling bowler.

A. Stevenson of Bound Brook, J. Taylor of O. N. T., and J. Pendlebury of Paterson did good work behind the wickets, and R. Robertson of Newark captured the greatest number of flies.

All in all, the season was a successful and enjoyable one, only one little cloud at any time darkening the horizon, and that was quickly and amicably blown away.

Of course, we are still without the Union County Club, and Orange no longer has a team, but the position of the young league is strengthening, and without it Jersey cricket would suffer severely.

NEWARK (N. J.) CRICKET CLUB.

Honorary President, Judge Thomas S. Henry; First Honorary Vice-President, H. E. Plass; Second Honorary Vice-President, C. G. Mortimer; Third Honorary Vice-President, Donald Livingston; Fourth Honorary Vice-President, William Railton; President, Harvey W. Harper; Vice-President, Fred C. Birch; Secretary-Treasurer, Charles K. Murray, 24 Elwood Place, Newark, N. J.; Captain, J. Albert Booth; Vice-Captain, E. C. McCall.

Grounds, Branch Brook Park (Northern Division).

The showing of the Newark cricket eleven was a disappointment to the club's numerous followers. Starting strong early in the season, the eleven gave promise of doing great things in the league championship games. In July, however, owing to several of their best men, including the Rev. T. P. Bate, leaving the city on vacation, the team lost four straight games which otherwise should have been victories. Then, to make matters worse, Fred Birch, the team's crack slow bowler, was forced to stop playing on account of bad health, and Newark, which had tied Union County for the championship the year previous, finished in fifth place in the league standing.

Rev. T. P. Bate had a batting average of 24.33, but only took part in three games. Of the regulars, E. C. McCall led with 12.76, followed by C. Parks with 11.88.

Andrew Wallace had the best bowling average with 4.91, but not having the required number of balls failed to qualify for the prize. Wallace, who joined the Newark club last season, did splendid work with bat and ball for Newark. He formerly belonged to the Kirkcaldy Cricket Club of Kirkcaldy, Scotland, and has had considerable experience in first-class Scottish county cricket. Fred Birch, Newark's crack slow bowler, was again a puzzle to the league batsmen last season, and finished with the good average of 6.16. The complete averages follow:

WEST INDIA WANDERERS CRICKET CLUB.

President, Charles Samuels; Vice-President, J. Worrell; Secretary, F. M. Bonitto; Treasurer, R. Burns; Captain, J. Weekes.

Games played 14; won 7, lost 5, drawn 2.

The West India Wanderers Cricket Club of Boston, which is one of the oldest cricket clubs in Massachusetts, last season was not very successful, though they captured the batting averages of the league (M. S. C. L.) through the excellent batting of J. Weekes, better known as "Ranji" Weekes. The previous year they captured both batting and bowling averages. However, all credit must be attributed to "Ranji" Weekes for his magnificent batting, he having the highest individual score made in an inning in the M. S. C. L.—118 not out.

1. Charles F. Samuels, President West India Wanderers Cricket Club, organizer of the first colored Cricket club in the United States, May 30, 1892; 2. Frank M. Bonitto, re-elected Secretary of the West India Wanderers Cricket Club six consecutive years; 3. George E. McDonald, President St. Thomas Cricket Club, Secretary Manhattan Cricket Association.

FORMATION OF THE "WEST INDIAN WANDERERS."

On May 30, 1892, while a game of cricket was being played at the Longwood Grounds, Mr. George Wright, of the firm of Wright & Ditson and a member of the Boston Athletic Association Cricket Club, in company with Mr. Ralph Cracknell, a fellow-cricketer, approached two colored men who were among the spectators. Mr. Wright said to one of these men, Mr. Charles F. Samuels: "I have often seen you here at the various games that have been played. Do you understand cricket?" "Yes," said Samuels. "Where did you learn it?" asked Mr. Wright. "In my native home, British Guiana," was the reply. The other gentleman was Mr. David E. Francis of St. Kitts, British West Indies.

It was suggested by Mr. Wright that Mr. Samuels organize a cricket club, to be composed of colored men from the West Indies and other colonies. The suggestion was carried out, and a club was formed known as the West Indian Wanderers Cricket Club of Boston, Mass. Mr. Wright presented to the club all the material necessary to play the game. Through Mr. Wright's influence, membership was obtained in the Massachusetts Cricket League. The club played a number of games in Massachusetts and New Hampshire and earned a good reputation. In the latter part of July, 1893, Mr. Samuels received a challenge to play the B. A. A. Cricket Club at Longwood. With the challenge came a letter from Mr. Wright asking for future games, that the abilities of the Wanderers might be tested; also the offer that any member of the club who made ten or more runs against the crack bowlers of the B. A. A. C. C. would be presented with a gilt-edge ball. The game was played, David E. Francis making 25 runs, Benjamin F. Springer 15 runs, and William R. Cummings 10 runs. It was the first time a colored team ever played on the Longwood grounds, and for that reason it attracted a great deal of attention and brought out a large number of spectators. The game was won by the B. A. A. Cricket Club, but the West Indian Wanderers Cricket Club won the respect and good-will of the spectators, and received an ovation for the great fielding work of the club. The wicket keeper, Mr. Edward Taylor, was the center of attraction, as he was the first one ever seen on the grounds that did not use gloves. Mr. Wright offered an annual prize for the best bowling and batting averages. Among Mr. Wright's many mementoes is a large frame containing the photographs of the West Indian Wanderers club.

The club won the championship of the junior division for 1906. From the West Indian Wanderers Club of Boston have sprung the several West Indian clubs that have since appeared, namely, the West Indian of Boston, Carribean, the West Indian of New York, and all the present colored teams in the United States.

During the season of 1906 Mr. Wright offered a ball for the best batting average and a bat for the best bowling average, to be competed for by members of the West Indian Wanderers Cricket Club. The ball was won by Mathew S. Clark and the bat by Amos E. Wilson. These two prizes were exhibited in the show window of Wright & Ditson for four weeks.

Challenge Cup, the conditions being that a club must win the championship of the Massachusetts State Cricket League three years in succession to become permanent owners of the cup.

The season has been a very successful one. Of 16 games played, 11 were won, 2 lost and 3 drawn; 1,708 runs were scored for the season, the highest single innings score being 227, at Worcester, May 30, 1910. On the same date W. Isaac came within seventeen runs of scoring a century. The club again distinguished itself by defeating its opponent at Wood Island Park, East Boston, July 30, without the loss of a wicket; 57 runs were made against the West India. E. Worrell and J. Peters scored 42 and 50 not out, respectively. The club also had the honor of having the smallest amount of runs scored against them. A game was played at Canton on September 10, and, although it ended in a draw, was a remarkable game. After scoring 191 runs for 8 wickets, their opponents were sent to bat with fifteen minutes of playing time, and the champions captured eight of their opponents' wickets for the small score of 4 runs, J. Peters securing five of the eight without a run being scored off him, and yet he did not perform the "hat trick." The West India has always been noted for its bowlers, but the season just ended found it making a bid for the batting honors also, it having scored more runs than any other club in the league. The batting and bowling honors go to J. Peters—batting average, 22.00; bowling, 4.26. Following are the averages:

President, Col. J. J. Whipple; vice-president, A. F. Barker; treasurer, C. Cowell; secretary, William Nelson, 43 Coburn Street, Brockton, Mass. Organized 1884. Incorporated 1894.

The Brockton Cricket Club held fifth place in the Massachusetts League at the end of the season. On the whole the playing was not as good as has been seen in previous years, but a lot of good work was done on the part of several of the individual players. Unfortunately the team was deprived of the services of Captain Hunter for the whole season, as he unfortunately sprained his ankle in the first game of the year.

FALL RIVER AND NEW BEDFORD DISTRICT AMATEUR CRICKET LEAGUE, NEW BEDFORD, MASS.

President, John A. Fernley; Vice-Presidents, L. Mellor, William K. Sylvia; Secretary-Treasurer, Harold H. Williamson.

The league during the past season was restricted to but four clubs, all hailing from New Bedford, and including the New Bedford Cricket Club, Hathaway-Portuguese Cricket Club, Bay View Cricket Club and the West Indian Cricket Club.

Although not quite so successful from a financial standpoint as in previous years, yet the standard of play shown in the games was a decided improvement, thanks in a great measure to the high mark set by the Hathaway-Portuguese eleven, who had considerably strengthened their team and carried off all the honors in sight, taking the Barker Cup for their own property, after winning it three consecutive times, also claiming the Boardman Cup, and the pennant for the club scoring highest aggregate, by winning every league game, with a total of 22 points.

They also claim high places in the batting and bowling averages, the first five positions in the league batting being occupied by wearers of the H.-P. C.C. sweaters, of whom A. Isidoro leads with 30.50, which is the highest since the inception of the league.

Captain Brito leads the trundlers with an average of 3.27 for 40 wickets, being closely followed by Jose Duarte with 3.88 for 36 wickets.

For the New Bedford team V. Sandiford took first batting with 13.71, L. Mellor being second with 13.20, Captain Marsh being virtually first bowler with 24 wickets and average of 4.58.

A. Shaw led the Bay View batsmen with 13.12 of an average, F. Buckley following him with 10.50; Beck took the bowling honors with 29 wickets at a cost of 5.75, W. H. Foreman was second with 7.79 for 39 wickets.

The West Indian club, which only organized during the past year, gave their opponents some close games, and are expecting to do even better during the coming season. E. Jones was high man in the batting department, with an even 10 runs, B. Gaskins and L. Mayers being close up, whilst the latter two also carried off the bowling honors.

The high individual scores during the season were taken by A. Isidoro of the Hathaway-Portuguese with 58, W. Woolfenden of the New Bedfords with 49, F. Buckley of the Bay Views, 41 not out, and Briggs Gaskins of the West Indians, 28.

HATHAWAY'S PORTUGUESE CRICKET CLUB.

President, Cezar A. Pinto; Vice-President, Theophilo A. Brito; Treasurer, M. Rose; Secretary, Thomas Lacerda.

With a record of sixteen wins out of eighteen games played, the Hathaway's Portuguese cricket team had a successful season. They scored 1,843 runs for 135 wickets, an average of 13.65 per wicket, while their opponents were unable to score more than 707 runs for 158 wickets, an average of 4.46 runs per wicket. The victories were obtained over Providence (1), New Bedfords (4), Bay Views (4), West Indies (4), Commonwealth (1), Fall River (2). One game was lost to West India Wanderers of Boston and one to Commonwealth, the latter being the most interesting game of the season, the score being 84 to 82.

Both teams were in good shape and showed their strength in batting and bowling. Brito and Duarte never bowling better. Duarte captured 8 wickets for 26 runs, an average of 3.25 runs per wicket; A. Isidoro headed the batters with an average of 28.41 runs per game, and the bowling honors were shared by Brito and Duarte, with an average of 4.37 runs per wicket for Brito and 4.41 for the latter.

The Portuguese got the best of matters with all the local clubs and were undoubtedly the best team in New Bedford. They were champions in 1909, and in 1910 they were proud winners of all the prizes, and champions of the New Bedford and Fall River District League and real owners of the "Barker" Cup, which has been in close struggle for a long period.

STAMFORD CRICKET CLUB.

President, Edward Wright; Vice-Presidents, James Nelson, Thomas Woodhall and Dr. Williamson; Treasurer, William MacLachlan; Financial Secretary, Albert W. Selwyn; Secretary, Jesse Coope; Captain, William Williams; Vice-Captain, Charles Bennett.

Games played 8; won 3, lost 5.

Edward Whalen led the batting averages; W. Rundle won the bowling prize, while John Ward and Jesse Coope won the prizes offered for the best work in the field. Albert W. Selwyn did good service with the willow, but did not play enough to qualify. Much of the success is due to A. W. Selwyn, who has spared neither time nor money for the best interests of the club. The prospects for 1911 are very good.

BAY VIEW CRICKET CLUB, NEW BEDFORD, MASS.

RHODE ISLAND AND MASSACHUSETTS CRICKET LEAGUE.

President, Thomas F. Green, Lonsdale; vice-president, Dr. Ralph H. Shaw, Providence; treasurer, David R. Eccles, 9 Forest Avenue, Lonsdale, R. I.; secretary, Alfred Armitage, 124 Washington Street, Providence, R. I.; auditors, John H. Wood, Fall River, and Walter C. Eaton, Providence; representatives, John H. Wood, Fall River; S. Ogden, Fall River; David R. Eccles, Lonsdale; Alfred Whatmough, Lonsdale; Dr. R. H. Shaw, Blues; Walter C. Eaton, Blues; Thomas Coates, Whites; Dr. R. L. Tucker, Whites.

The Rhode Island and Massachusetts Cricket League enjoyed a most prosperous season, and has done much toward maintaining a grip on those in this section who are interested in the English national game.

The league committee have been presented with a splendid trophy by the Parkinson piano house, to be competed for annually by teams in the league. Some fine cricket was exhibited during the season, and the protest committee has not had a single case to pass upon. The prospects for next season are that several new teams will apply for membership. The Fall River club has been the most successful in winning games this year, with the Providence Blues running them a close second.

A cricketer's reunion was held at the British Club Hall, 152 Weybosset Street, on Wednesday, October 19, when the Parkinson trophy was presented to the Fall River club. Special prizes were also awarded for the best batting and bowling averages. Richard Fox of the Providence Blues won the batting prize, with an average of 25.01, while J. H. Wood of Fall River gathered in the bowling prize, having taken 42 wickets at the very low cost of 3.36 runs apiece.

The standing of the clubs with the batting and bowling averages for the season are as follows:

	W.	L.	D.	P.C.		W.	L.	D.	P.C.
Fall Fiver,	8	2	1	.850	Providence Whites,	3	8	1	.350

C. Eaton, Thomas Coates, R. L. Tucker, W. H. Walton, president, treasurer, secretary; match committee, W. C. Eaton, Thomas Coates, A. Armitage. Grounds, Reservoir Avenue.

The eighth annual meeting of the Providence Cricket Club was held on November 11, at 124 Washington Street, Providence. A large number of enthusiastic cricketers attended, and Dr. R. H. Shaw presided. The report of Secretary Armitage showed the club to be in a flourishing condition, and that the interest in cricket was increasing considerably each season.

Of the two elevens the Blues proved to be the more successful, playing eighteen games, winning ten, losing four and drawing four. Of this number four games were played with the strong Pawtucket eleven, the Blues winning two matches, losing two and drawing one.

Richard Fox proved himself to be the best all around cricketer, although Dr. Shaw was a worthy second. Fox carried off both the prizes for batting and bowling, the former with an average of 18.13, runs, and the latter with 84 wickets, at an average of 5.75 runs.

Dr. Shaw deserves credit for his performances both with the bat and the ball, having a batting average of 15.08 and a bowling average of 29 wickets for 9.21 runs.

The White eleven were not so fortunate in winning games, as they played twenty-two, winning seven, losing eleven and drawing four. Alfred Armitage, the popular secretary, won the batting prize, with an average of 14.09, and O. J. Davis won the bowling prize with an average of 32 wickets for 6.15 runs.

Cricket in Chicago

CHICAGO CRICKET ASSOCIATION.

Hyde Park C. and A.C.	8½	3	0	8½	South Park C.C.....	6	5	1	6
Wanderers	8	2	2	8	Chicago C.C.	0	12	0	0

The season of 1910, though only composed of four elevens, has been one of the brightest in years, not only that the schedule was fully played but the championship changed, the Wanderers, after holding the pennant for so many years in succession, were defeated in the last game played by the Hyde Park team, thereby giving the championship to Hyde Park.

The cricket has been more delightful to watch, the individual scores being more numerous and consistent. The club scores of over 100 runs per match out of forty-eight games played are as follows:

Wanderers.	Hyde Park.	South Park.	Chicago.
1 7	1 5	5	2
200 100	200 100	100	100

The Hyde Parks have the credit of the highest score of 221, though the Wanderers, had they been able to complete their winnings of 218 for 3 wickets, would have had the honor. The highest individual score was made by C. G. Osborne of the Wanderers with 84, made in the only game he played. It was to be regretted that Mr. Osborne could not participate in more games than he did, as his clean hitting was a treat to watch. The leader in the batting averages was again secured by the old favorite, H. P. Waller of the Wanderers. All the players in Chicago willingly give him all the honor due, for he richly deserves it, his clean, hard hitting being the best ever seen, and his only enemy being the bowlers. Mention must also be made of A. Dickson of the South Park team, who has scored very consistently, finally securing the special prize presented by C. H. Jackson of the Wanderers for the highest aggregate score—357; also A. H. Moyerly of the Wanderers, a good defensive player, who can also lay on the willow with great effect. The bowling average was well earned by the great favorite, G. R. Burton of Hyde Park, with an average of 6.61. Credit is also due to G. M. Carruthers of the Wanderers with the average of 7.70 for 54 wickets. The Chicago clubs are certainly proud of the class of their wicket-keepers. Not for years has the quality been up to the standard of 1910, F. M. Warriner leading all in his first season in America, with 5 stumped, 3 caught, J. A. Pakenham of the South Park being a close contender with 2 stumped, 5 caught.

The association has every prospect of increasing its membership for 1911, as at least one or two new elevens are being formed.

HYDE PARK CRICKET CLUB.

After a struggle lasting for several years the Hyde Park team finally succeeded in taking the championship of the Chicago Cricket Association from the Wanderers, who had held the title for the past eight years.

By the acquisition of a good bat in K. Symon and the capital form displayed by G. Burton and the Dickson brothers, the batting department showed up very strongly.

In bowling the club was unusually strong, having no less than seven good trundlers on the team. The bulk of the work fell on G. Burton and G. Dickson. The former, after a rather poor start, settled down at mid-season and was very successful, finally topping the bowling averages of the league. George Dickson showed good form throughout the season.

The Hyde Park team was very successful against the Wanderers, winning three of the four games. The South Parks proved a stumbling block, an even split being the best the Hyde Parks could get. The Chicagos, who at times had difficulty in raising a team, were defeated in all four games.

The Hyde Park club started out by losing to South Park, but won the next six games. The third meeting with the Wanderers exemplified the uncertainty of cricket, as the Hyde Park team was soundly defeated, 27 to 190, the whole side failing miserably at the bat.

The last day of the schedule found the Wanderers leading the league by half a point over the Hyde Parks, so that nothing less than a win would give the latter club the lead. The teams met under perfect conditions, on a good wicket, but a trifle slow. The Wanderers won the toss and elected to bat first, but so well did G. Burton and G. Dickson bowl that the side was dismissed for 52 runs.

The fielding of the Hyde Park team was superb, not a run being given away. On Hyde Park going to bat runs came very slowly, but the Wanderers' score was passed with five wickets to spare, the total eventually reaching 118.

The club's prospects for the season of 1911 are bright. It will lose none of its old members and the new material is very promising.

The only item worthy of note is that on July 23, in the match against Hyde Park, the Chicago team was dismissed for six runs, W. Sheppard for the Hyde Parks bringing off the "bat trick" in his first over. The Chicagos made a fair score on their second attempt, but it was too late to recover the lost ground.

LOS ANGELES CRICKET CLUB.

President, John Alton; Vice-President, Ed Bird; Secretary, W. Maddocks.

The Los Angeles Cricket Club did not have a very successful season during 1910, losing the Dudley Cup to Santa Monica Cricket Club in three games. The two wins to their credit were from Riverside Cricket Club and Watts Cricket Club. In no game were they able to place their full strength in the field.

T. D. Bamford captained the team and showed sound cricket, with a batting average of 20.1 and taking 12 wickets at the cost of 9.3 runs. The club has very nicely arranged grounds at Vineyard Station. They use matting laid on sawdust, which makes an excellent pitch. In connection with the club are two tennis courts, which are well patronized the year round.

SANTA MONICA CRICKET CLUB.

Captain, C. Percy Hurditch; Vice-Captain, P. J. Higgins; Treasurer, P. J. Dudley; Secretary, A. H. Collins.

Several games were played with the Los Angeles and other clubs and a most successful season was enjoyed by the players. Unfortunately the score book has been mislaid and the averages are therefore not obtainable.

PORTLAND (ORE.) CRICKET CLUB.

President, R. Chappell Browne; Vice-President, J. J. Churchley; Secretary, J. C. Cumming; Captain, K. H. Bailey.

Games played 7; won 4, lost 3.

The season of 1910 found the Portland Cricket Club in a flourishing condition. The finances were in a satisfactory state, the grounds were much improved, and there was a promising array of talent among the membership.

Under such circumstances it was but natural that the club should have had a successful season, and it was indeed gratifying to those older members who have so long striven to develop cricket in the Beaver State to see the improvement in the actual play itself.

The club employed Coppinger, an ex-Liverpool professional, as coach, and has the distinction of being the only club on the Coast who own their own grounds and have a professional.

Portland won both home games this season, defeating the Multnomah Club eleven and Seattle Cricket Club.

The club made a strong bid for the International Cup this season and had the batting been a little stronger might easily have reached the final.

The bowlers especially distinguished themselves at Victoria, three of the wearers of blue and white finishing within the first ten—E. E. Fenwick, K. H. Bailey and Coppinger (pro.).

Portland hopes next season to bring the International Cup over the line for the first time.

The highest score of the season was Coppinger's 91, which is a ground record. W. G. Smith won the bat for the highest score of the season with an excellent innings of 77 not out, and the same gentleman leads the club averages with 25 innings for 19.1. The veteran ex-captain finished in the bowling averages also.

K. H. Bailey, who will captain Portland in 1911, leads the bowling averages, his performance against Vancouver Cricket Club at Victoria being especially commendable.

Portland desires to extend a cordial invitation to all cricketers and friends who may find themselves in Oregon.

Games played 18; won 13, lost 4, drawn 1.

This was the most successful season the club has ever known, caused very largely by the consistent batting of McKillop through the entire summer. Besides the century shown in the averages of 122 made against the Albions at Seattle on September 5, he has another one of 69 not out to his credit against the same team, made at Victoria on August 26. In addition to this, he has other high scores of 98 against Aanich and Strawberry Vale, 85 against The Garrison, 81 against Portland, 65 not out vs. Victoria, and three or four scores of less than fifty during the season, viz: 42, 39, 35 and 29.

DENVER CRICKET CLUB.

President, Dr. John H. Gower; Vice-President, J. Carruthers; Treasurer, R. B. Hosker; Secretary, William M. Nelson; Director, R. Hall.

We play on a piece of ground in City Park, kindly donated by the Park Board. We played during the season of 1910 some sixteen games, sides being chosen from members present and any visitors who cared to take part.

COPPER COUNTRY CRICKET LEAGUE.

The officers of the Copper Country Cricket League for the year 1910 were: President, Alex Stevenson, Hancock; First Vice-President, Capt. Rapson, Ahmeek; Second Vice-President, Capt. John Trevarrow, Painesdale; Secretary-Treasurer, William Reid, Hancock.

The season just concluded has probably been the most successful since the commencement of the league. Although but nine clubs composed the league, one less than last year, those which entered have put up a better grade of play than in previous seasons. New players have become connected with several of the clubs, which has had the effect of greatly strengthening them, particularly Mohawk and Tamarack. Mohawk was fortunate in having several good batters and bowlers who could always be relied upon, together with the excellent support given them by the other players in a close game, and to them is due the honor of winning the Norman W. Haire trophy for 1910. Tamarack also was fortunate in securing W. Carbis. This gentleman has proved a valuable addition to them and for cricket generally, because of the ease and care with which he handles his bat, and the effect it will have upon the younger players. With Messrs. Davis and Maloney of Mohawk, and Mr. Carbis of Tamarack again on the field in 1911, we are tolerably certain of a great improvement in the future.

Captain Trevarrow of Mohawk kindly donated another cup for competition. The terms under which it is to be won are: That it shall become the property of the club which makes the greatest number of runs two years in succession, or to the club which has the greatest number of runs in any three years not in succession. Mohawk holds this cup, as also the Norman W. Haire trophy, held by the Calumet and Hecla last season.

It has become an established custom of late that the club which holds the Norman W. Haire trophy should play a team composed of the best players drawn from the other clubs, as a post-season game. This game is looked forward to with considerable interest by the other clubs and the public in general, because of the known strength of the Mohawks. The game was originally fixed to take place September 24, but on account of bad weather it was postponed until October 8. The game commenced shortly after 2 P. M., when the representative team went in to bat. They put up a strong game, but when the champions went in to bat, it soon became evident they held the cup by superior playing and retired after winning the game, with five wickets to fall, because of darkness.

The following are the clubs in the league, together with the number of games played or won by forfeit, percentage, and number of runs made:

SONS OF ST. GEORGE CRICKET CLUB, BALTIMORE, MD.

BRANDON CITY CRICKET LEAGUE.

President, A. M. Percival, Esq.; Vice-President, J. A. P. Clark; Secretary, A. E. Burton; Treasurer, P. J. Smyth.

This league consists of four clubs, namely: St. George's Cricket Club, St. Mary's Cricket Club, St. Matthew's Cricket Club and Y. M. C. A. Cricket Club. St. George's were champions last year, they winning the Percival Cup.

The league has about 125 members.

The cricket matches played last year were among the various clubs in the league and a certain number of games had to be played on each others' grounds. The cricket this year bids fair to be the strongest aggregation yet established in Brandon among the four clubs.

Last year the Brandon picked eleven defeated the Winnipeg Cricket Club at Brandon. The cricket clubs that are around this district and visit us for matches are Belmont C.C., Belmont, Man.; Rapid City C.C., Rapid City, Man.; Wawanessa C.C., Wawanessa, Man.; Elkhorn C.C., Elkhorn, and Minnadosa C.C., Minnadosa, Man.

HORLICK'S CRICKET CLUB, RACINE, WIS.

The season of 1910 was rather disappointing as far as matches were concerned, for on account of extensive building operations going on here, it was absolutely impossible for the management to take up anything in the way of athletics, which fact is very much regretted. It is expected, however, that things will so shape themselves that a good team can be put in the field next season, and we are looking forward to a number of good matches, with the possibility of the formation of another league in Wisconsin.

CRICKET IN ST. LOUIS.

Until 1910 cricket in St. Louis was of only minor importance as a sport, but in that year the game improved wonderfully, owing to the interest taken by the younger element, and prospects for the coming season are such that St. Louis feels she will be able to hold her own with any city in the United States or Canada.

For many reasons the St. Louis Cricket Club boasts the best team in the West; in fact, several excellent teams can be drawn from among its members.

Owing no doubt to the successful Canadian tour of 1909, when the St. Louis team won seven out of eight games played against the best teams of the West and Canada, the membership of the club has doubled during the last season, and among the most enthusiastic players are some former base ball men.

The club has one of the prettiest grounds in the country and is fortunate in having a good turf wicket. Moreover, the climate in this section is admirably adapted to cricket, the long warm season making the game possible from the first of April until early November at least, with no heavy rains to render the crease unfit for playing.

For the coming season the St. Louis Cricket Club has a fine outlook. Games are being arranged with Ottawa and Toronto clubs, and Racine, Wis.; there are four certain games with Chicago teams, and there is also the hope of an interesting trip to Canada or the East.

The club has been lucky in securing the services of William Robinson, the all-around athlete (known all over the country as "Big Rob"), as coach and groundsman, and under his guidance much progress is sure to be made.

Among the prominent club members are George H. Pring, leading bowler of the West; Captain J. J. McDonough, who at one time played for Somerset County, England; the veteran cricketer, Dr. Alex. Murray, and Rev. E. Duckworth, a fine batsman and an excellent bowler. Several well-known Eastern men, Henry Allen, Ernest Stevens, and Arthur Greggson of New York and W. L. Chadwick of Boston are now members of this organization.

At a recent meeting the following officers were elected for 1911: President, F. S. Roberts; Vice-Presidents, E. M. Gueydan, Henry Allen and J. H. Thompson; Secretary, W. L. Chadwick; Assistant Secretary, Raymond Bee; Treasurer, A. W. Hail; Captain, Dr. Alex. Murray; Vice-Captain, G. H. Pring.

CRICKET IN KENTUCKY.

Cricket was unknown in Kentucky till Rev. T. Dowell Phillips went there in September 1909, as classical instructor in the St. John's School for Postulants, with its thirty-five manly students, ranging in age from 20 to 40. The season of 1910 was very wet, and the early closing of the school, on May 31, militated against much play, so that the men addicted to outdoor recreation stuck largely to base ball and tennis. Even the veteran cricketer, now in his seventy-eighth year, determined to have his afternoon recreation, came down to the latter, and was facile princeps, though several younger players were his opponents. We have no report since the reopening of the school in October. Before that, Alfred Martyn, an Oxford native, ably supported his chief in teaching the novices.

AKRON (O.) CRICKET CLUB.

President, R. Friswell; Vice-Presidents, Ed Nall, J. Wigley; Secretary, James Ainger; Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, W. Pearce; Captain, J. H. Jensen.

The Akron club has been in existence since 1903, but so far have not made much headway as a winning team. On several occasions they traveled as far as Pittsburg to play their league schedule and have only won one game each year in the competition. Still the spirit is with them and they will have a team in the field in 1911.

CRICKET IN ARKANSAS.

The game was introduced into the State of Arkansas at Winslow, in the Ozarks, by the Rev. T. Dowell Phillips, when he was professor in the Arkansas School of Theology, in 1908 and 1909. At the summer session of 1909, held 2,200 feet above sea level, the then professor and men, some fifteen in number, all made cricket their daily exercise for two hours, the splendid mountain air making this very enjoyable, even for July, for the mercury never reached 90 degrees at that altitude. Besides Mr. Phillips, an enthusiast for over fifty years; Mr. (now Reverend) Joseph Kuehne, an old base ball player, was a hard hitter and good fielder; Mr. Barker, an old Essex cricketer, showed the effects of early training on English soil.

The season has been successful. The Northwestern Cricket Tournament was held in August and proved an unqualified success. We had with us Winnipeg, Toronto and Minnesota. Result was a tie between Winnipeg, Toronto and Wanderers, Minnesota losing out. Too much praise cannot be said regarding the men who made the tournament possible. I might mention Mr. Skinner and Mr. Bain of Winnipeg, Dr. Dean and Mr. Martin of Toronto, Mr. Delephena and Mr. Roe of Minnesota, and also C. W. Jackson of the Wanderers, whose untiring efforts in the interest of the game is an asset, not only to his own club, the Wanderers, but to everyone connected with the game. Dr. E. R. Ogden, after a lapse of about ten years, reappeared and still shows he has lost none of his old-time ability, and, now that he has "come back," he is again going to take up the game he loves so well. Speaking of the old guard, it is interesting to note that Dr. Ogden, W. Balster, D. C. Davies and C. W. Jackson have played together for nearly twenty-five years. The condition of the grounds and wicket of the Wanderers Cricket Club cannot be surpassed, due to the extreme care which is given them, and we should be pleased to have a visit from any Eastern club, and could ensure them a royal time.

SALT LAKE CRICKET CLUB.

This club had a fairly successful time during the past season, but unfortunately had no matches with outside clubs. They have a complete organization and had matches between members of the club during the summer and on holidays, the practice being for the Executive Committee to designate two parties to act as Captains for any particular date and they in turn select the players to comprise the teams. In this way they get quite a little cricket during the season, but it is not as interesting as would be the case if it were possible for them to meet outside teams.

The officers for the past year were as follows: President, M. H. Walker; Secretary-Treasurer, H. A. James; Captain, Will Hoare; Executive Committee, J. B. Ferguson, A. Collis, A. Hall, Dr. Halton.

TRINITY COLLEGE CRICKET TEAM, CANADA.

Cricket in Canada

BY FRANK CALDER, SPORTING EDITOR MONTREAL HERALD.

With but comparatively few outstanding features, cricket in Canada during 1910 may be summed up as a fair average season.

Without the annual international with the United States (1910 was the first break in the sequence since 1889, by the way), and failing the visits of any very representative touring team to the Dominion, the game becomes more or less a matter of local, or at the best, district interest. Winnipeg had a cricket tournament; Victoria, B. C., also had a tournament and a Canadian team; the Zingari, composed mainly of Toronto and Hamilton players, toured in England, but apart from that followers of the grand old game confined their energies to well-defined localities.

In this connection, however, it is refreshing to note the organization of the Western Canada Cricket Association—a well-defined attempt to place cricket in the West on a stronger basis, and which may eventually result in Winnipeg becoming the logical cricket center—as well as the geographical center of the Dominion.

The combining of the cricket interests of the Western provinces and of Manitoba cannot fail to have its effect in future representative matches with the United States or other countries.

The Eastern provinces of Quebec and Ontario have apparently preserved the armed neutrality in cricket affairs which has been characteristic of the sport during the past few years. Difference of opinion on the matter of selecting a team, difficulty in securing strong enough players with the necessary time to devote to it, and the hazards of finance were at the bottom of the abandonment of the international match by Eastern cricketers in 1910. There is every indication of a better understanding between the two provinces, which have always supplied the Canadian representative team, being arrived at, any possibly the season of 1911 may see a resumption of the international feature.

Getting down to the game itself, probably more cricket was played in Canada during 1910 than in any previous season. The great influx of Englishmen into the West has, quite naturally, led to a very active "boom" in the game there. The difficulty of obtaining decent wickets seems to be the hardest proposition the newcomers are up against. Coming from a land of perfect cricket creases, Englishmen find it hard to adapt themselves to artificial wickets of matting or to the exceedingly erratic pitches which are gained by the most careful preparation of the surface of mother earth.

Except in British Columbia, where the less rigorous climate tends towards the making of good pitches, the bowler still appears to have the whip hand.

An Old Country batsman playing on a plumb wicket knows that he has, generally, only the bowler to defeat. In Canada he has the bowler and the wicket to contend against, and the combination keeps down the big scores as a rule. Hence the comparatively low scoring of many players who are really first-class batsmen and the remarkable showing of many bowlers who, under other conditions, would be but average trundlers.

With the limited space at the disposal of the present writer and with the returns available a very lengthy analysis of the cricket in Canada in 1910 is out of the question. The subject, however, is dealt with as closely as the conditions allow in the appended sections.

1. E. C. Laver, Winnipeg Wanderers C.C.; 2. L. M. Rathbun, Toronto C.C.

CRICKET IN THE MARITIME PROVINCES.

Cricket is in practically a quiescent condition in New Brunswick. So much so, in fact, that the St. John Club was able to secure but little outside competition, and confined its energies to club games.

In the sister province of Nova Scotia, the Nova Scotia Cricket League, composed of the Wanderers, Garrison (Halifax), Sydney and Stellarton clubs, played through their schedule, with Stellarton coming out on top of the heap, after a keen competition. Individual scoring was comparatively low on the side of the champions, Rev. M. Taylor heading the batting averages with 15.33, followed by W. Cumming, with an average of 14.5, and by Dr. Miller, with 13.12. W. Campbell headed the bowlers with an analysis showing 34 wickets at a cost of 2.68 runs apiece.

CRICKET IN QUEBEC.

In this province, especially around the city of Montreal, the season of 1910 was a markedly active one. The principal competition—the two sections of the Montreal and District Cricket League—brought about some really excellent cricket, though here, as elsewhere, the bowlers had rather the better of the argument.

E. H. Thompson of the Lachine Club led the upper section of the league in the batting averages, with an average of 29.80 runs for eleven innings. Not only did this player lead the league averages, but he also netted the highest score of the league season—a finely put together 81.

In the B division of the league E. P. Wallace of the Osborne club headed the batsmen with an average of 46.25 for four completed innings.

Averages of better than ten runs each in both divisions of the league were:

THE BOWLING HONORS.

The bowling honors of the league in Division A went to D. B. Smail of the Westmount club, with an average of 4.23 for 34 wickets, but the performance of T. Wilson of Lachine, who took 45 wickets at a cost of 5.06 runs apiece, would probably stamp him as the most consistent trundler in the league. In the second division of the league, H. McNeil of Osborne headed the averages with 3.70, while W. Dennis of Lachine made a good record with an average of 4.56. F. Pearson of Lachine took 53 wickets in 83 overs, for an average of 5.43—a very creditable performance.

GALT (CAN.) CRICKET CLUB.

The cricket of the Ottawa Club is generally included with that of the Province of Quebec, although the Canadian capital is actually situated in the sister Province of Ontario. Ottawa's season is made up, for the greater part, of matches with the leading clubs in Eastern Canada, and her batsmen and bowlers are among the strongest in Canada. W. Johnston headed the batting averages of the club with 21.58 for seventeen complete innings, his highest score being 153, which, as far as can be gathered, was the highest individual compilation in one innings made in the Dominion last season.

H. Ackland, another stalwart batsman of the Ottawa Club, passed the century mark with 101 not out.

Bowling honors of the club were distributed between Messrs. W. Johnston, M. G. Bristow and F. L. C. Pereira, with averages of 11.43, 15 and 15.58, respectively.

THE GAME IN ONTARIO.

To the city of Toronto is generally conceded the honor of being considered the center of Ontario cricket. The principal interest in this city in the season of 1910 centered in the Toronto Cricket League, which proved to be about the most interesting on record. In both divisions of the league the competition was keen, Rosedale winning out in Division A by a narrow margin, while Parkdale led in Division B by a still narrower margin. The standing in both divisions was officially returned as follows:

CRICKET IN BRITISH COLUMBIA.

British Columbia is famed for the size of its fruit. It ought also to be famed for the size of its cricket scores. It appears to be the one province in the Dominion in which the nimble bowler does not get it his own way. During the international tournament, held in the city of Victoria, August 22 to 26, in which teams from Victoria, Seattle, Vancouver, Burrard, Saanich, Kootenay, Portland, Ore., and Nanaimo competed, no fewer than thirty-one players averaged more than 15 runs a piece for three innings, while five scores of better than a century were put together. The Victoria Club were the winners in the tourney, with Vancouver a close second. The principal batting averages were as follows:

CRICKET IN THE WEST.

The season of 1910 in Manitoba and the Western Provinces appears to have been the most successful in the history of cricket on the prairies, and in the city of Winnipeg especially the game has flourished. As, as in the other large centers of population, a league provided an interesting competition, from which the Canadian Pacific Railway Club emerged with the laurels. The standing of the league at the close of the season was:

The greatest fillip to the game as a whole in the West has been the formation of the Western Canada Cricket Association, in which are included the provincial associations of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. A tournament lasting a whole week, which was held in Winnipeg last summer, at which representative teams from all three provinces competed, did much to stimulate interest, and the tournament of 1911, to be held in Regina, promises to be even a greater success. The Manitoba team, composed mainly of the crack players of Winnipeg, carried off the honors.

CALGARY CRICKET CLUB.

Cricket has a firm hold in the city of Calgary, Alta, where the Calgary Club passed through a highly successful season in 1910. Here, as in other centers where the surrounding districts are but sparsely populated, the club had to fall back on its own resources for matches. Sufficient of these were played, however, to give the following interesting averages:

SOME NOTABLE FEATS IN CANADIAN CRICKET IN 1910.

Playing for the Garrett Cricket Club (Toronto) against St. Mary Magdalen, C. Tunbridge captured 6 wickets for 2 runs. His analysis for the match was: O., 4; M., 2; R., 2; W., 6.

W. B. Wells who figured on the Canadian team in the International of 1875, played five innings for the Chatham Cricket Club in 1910 for an average of 5.40.

Against the Cornishmen Cricket Club on June 4, the Birch Cliff team scored 57 and obtained seven of their opponents' wickets for 17 runs when a tail-end stand brought the score level.

Playing on a team of home-brew Nova Scotians against a team of immigrants, H. R. Jones of the Halifax Wanderers scored 107 without giving a chance.

Playing for the Halifax Wanderers against the Sydney Cricket Club, S. Bauld took three wickets for four runs in the first inning and three wickets for no runs in the second.

G. Whitehead of the Yorkshire White Rose Cricket Club (Winnipeg) scored 113 not out in the Winnipeg Cricket Association vs. Saskatchewan match on August 9.

Playing against the Winnipeg Telegram for the Yorkshire White Rose (Winnipeg), T. Smith took three wickets with three successive balls. Five Telegram wickets in this match fell in as many successive balls.

Four centuries were captured by members of the Winnipeg Wanderers last season. They were: May 24, T. Smith vs. Yorkshire White Rose, 100, retired; July 1, E. C. Laver vs. St. Jude's, 121, not out; August 20, E. C. Laver vs. Strathecona 100, not out; September 30, E. C. Reynolds vs. Stonewall, 100, retired.

L. M. Norton, a "lob" bowler of the old E. M. Grace school, did the hat trick on August 11 while playing for the Winnipeg Telegram Club against the Winnipeg Cricket Club. In the same match he captured five wickets in eight balls.

1. S. Downing; 2. Redgrove; 3. Joy; 4. E. Vincent, Pres.; 5. Spick; 6. Poile; 7. A. Downing; 8. Wetherall; 9. T. Bryant; 10. Hall; 11. Stephen; 12. Johnson; 13. Reilly; 14. Howland.

J. BARTON KING.

J. Barton King, who first played as a junior for the Tioga club in 1889, is undoubtedly the best all-around man in the United States and Canada. He can bowl all day and frequently has, and on absolutely smooth wickets he could bat all day, too. He has twice hit innings of over 300 (records for the United States and Canada), and has 34 centuries to his name (also a record), and on three occasions has secured all 10 wickets in an innings. Against Surrey in 1903 he hit 98 and 113 not out; unfortunately he was run out in the first innings, which deprived him of the feat of scoring two separate centuries in a match. By many good judges he is considered worthy of a place on a team selected from the world.

G. S. PATTERSON.

G. S. Patterson, most unfortunately for cricket in the United States, gave up playing so early, and it forms one of the tragedies of the game that owing to professional work he should have been lost to cricket when very nearly in his prime. Eighteen hundred and ninety-two was really his banner year, as he scored 1,748 runs in a season, which is a record for the United States and Canada; his highest individual score was 271. In 1891 he performed the double feat of scoring over 1,000 runs and taking over 100 wickets. The following figures are compiled from the best available sources:

A. M. WOOD.

Arthur M. Wood has been identified with the Belmont club since he first played cricket in the United States, and since that time has not missed a Halifax Cup game, except when in England with the Gentlemen of Philadelphia in 1897, 1903 and 1908, a record of which he may pardonably be proud. In his first game for the United States vs. Canada he reached the century mark and has scored more runs than any other batsman in the United States and Canada; has hit 23 centuries. In the Gentlemen vs. Players match in Philadelphia in 1894 he scored 108 and 77 not out.

Deaths in 1910

RICHARD NIGHTINGALE ASTERLEY, whose death occurred on September 28 at Bensonhurst, N. Y., was born at Llanmynech, Montgomeryshire, on October 29, 1867, and was educated at Oswestry Grammar School. On settling in the United States he played with the old New Jersey Athletic Club and the Knickerbocker Athletic Club and was one of the original members of the Bensonhurst Field Club. He was a useful, all-around cricketer and one of the most popular players in the New York district. At the time of his death he was a member of the Manhattan Cricket Club.

FREDERICK BAMFORD, whose death occurred on November 21 at Detroit, Mich., was born at Lampport, Northampton, on August 29, 1845. On coming to America in 1862 he identified himself with the Peninsular club, which afterwards amalgamated with the Detroit Athletic Club, and acted as Captain of the club for over twenty years; he led the club's batting and bowling averages for several seasons. He was an ardent curler and a lawn bowler. He skipped the only rink which defeated the British team in the fall.

W. W. FOULKROD, who died at Eddington, Philadelphia, Pa., on November 13, was born at Frankford, Pa., on November 22, 1846. He was one of the founders and at one time President of the Frankford Country Club.

ROBERT W. KRAUSE, a member of the Germantown Cricket Club of Philadelphia, died on November 27. His best season was that of 1902, when he scored 106 not out against Merion and 100 not out versus Wanderers.

BASSETT JONES, a native of Cardiff, died in New York City March 25, at the age of 60. He was a good left-handed bat and slow bowler; played with the old St. George, Staten Island, Cricket Club and New York Veterans' Cricket Association.

DAVID ALEXANDER MUNRO, one of the organizers of the Metropolitan Cricket League of New York and its President from 1893 to 1897 and in 1904 and 1905, died at St. Vincent's Hospital, New York, on March 9. He was a great supporter of the game and played in the early seventies with the Manhattan Cricket Club, of which he was President for many years. He was also President of the New York Veterans' Cricket Association and the British Public Schools and Universities' Club, as well as a member of the State Island Cricket Club and the Crescent Athletic Club. When Frank Mitchell's team visited America in 1895 they were his guests at a dinner given in their honor. Mr. Munro was born at Maryborough, County Ross, Scotland, on November 23, 1848.

ROBERT STUART NEWHALL, who was born at Philadelphia, Pa., on September 16, 1852, died at his native place on December 9. He was one of the best exponents and most generous supporters the game ever had in America, and in 1884 captained the Gentlemen of Philadelphia during their tour in England. For many years he was prominently identified with the Young America Club, which amalgamated with the Germantown Cricket Club in 1889. He was a skillful captain and a fine batsman, and in 1880, 1881 and 1885 won the Childs Cup in the Halifax Cup competition. His best innings was probably played against the Australians in 1878, when he scored 84. His centuries are as follows:

1875—Young America vs. Germantown.....	103
1876—Young America vs. Picked Eleven, Philadelphia.	101
1880—Young America vs. Toronto.....	120
1884—Gentlemen of Philadelphia vs. Cheshire.....	126

DR. EDWIN JOSEPH OGDEN, who died in Chicago, Ill., on February 14, aged 80, was born in Cooksville, Canada, and played for some years with the Oakville Cricket Club. On removing to Chicago in 1875 he organized the Chicago Cricket Club and was its President for over twenty years. He was instrumental in securing the grounds at Parkside on which the Wanderers Cricket Club now play.

THOMAS J. O'REILLY, whose death occurred at Brooklyn, N. Y., on May 3, was born in Dublin, March 6, 1865, and was educated at Wesley College in that city. On coming to America in 1884 he played with the Cosmopolitan, Berkeley Oval, Morris Park, Kings County, Brooklyn and Manhattan clubs, being identified with the latter for eighteen years. He was a most popular cricketer, both in and off the field, and a very useful batsman. His highest score in the Metropolitan District Cricket League Championship was in 1895, when he made 50 not out. In 1896 he won the batting prize in the New York Cricket Association. At the time of his death he was President of the Manhattan Cricket Club and Vice-President of the Metropolitan District Cricket League and New York Veterans' Cricket Association.

CHARLES STEWART PHILLIPS, whose death occurred on December 9 at Brooklyn, N. Y., was born at Montigua Bay, Jamaica, B. W. I. He was a useful all-around cricketer who, during the last twenty-three years, had been associated in turn with the Albion Cricket Club, Staten Island Athletic Club and the New York Veterans' Cricket Association. He was only 49 years of age at the time of his death. He was a noted tenor singer at Trinity Church, New York.

W. SHIMMIN, whose death occurred at Winnipeg on December 20, was born at St. John's, Isle of Man, on December 12, 1849. He was always an ardent supporter of the game and was President of the St. Jude Cricket Club since its inception in 1907.

THE REV. FRANCIS WALKER, whose death occurred at Brandon, Manitoba, on September 21, was educated at Trinity College, Toronto, Canada, where he was in the eleven. On settling at Brandon he undertook the captaincy of the St. George Cricket Club and for several years was one of the best cricketers in that city.

CENTURIES HIT IN THE UNITED STATES AND CANADA, 1910.

The past season proved to be one of the best as far as centuries are concerned, which is an indication that the grounds all over the country are improving. H. A. Furness' (of Haverford College) name appears four times (three of his centuries having been made in Eng-land). E. D. Wilkes of California is also reported to have made four, but particulars of one are not obtainable. The highest individual score of the season was made by L. Thomas, 182, of the Merion Juniors.

DIAGRAM OF CRICKET FIELD.

THE LAWS OF CRICKET.

AS AMENDED BY THE MARYLEBONE CLUB.

1. A match is played between two sides of eleven players each, unless otherwise agreed to ; each side has two innings, taken alternately, except in the case provided for in Law 53. The choice of innings shall be decided by tossing.

2. The score shall be reckoned by runs. A run is scored :—

1st. So often as the batsmen, after a hit, or at any time while the ball is in play, shall have crossed, and made good their ground, from end to end.

2nd. For penalties under law 16, 34, 41, and allowances under 44.

Any run or runs so scored shall be duly recorded by scorers appointed for the purpose. The side which scores the greatest number of runs wins the match. No match is won unless played out or given up except in the case provided for in Law 45.

3. Before the commencement of the match, two umpires shall be appointed : one for each end.

4. The Ball shall weigh not less than five ounces and a half, nor more than five ounces and three-quarters. It shall measure not less than nine inches, nor more than nine inches and one quarter in circumference. At the beginning of each innings, either side may demand a new ball.

5. The Bat shall not exceed four inches and one-quarter in the widest part ; it shall not be more than thirty-eight inches in length.

6. The Wickets shall be pitched opposite and parallel to each other at a distance of twenty-two yards. Each wicket shall be eight inches in width, and consist of three stumps, with two bails upon the top. The stumps shall be of equal and of sufficient size to prevent the ball from passing through, twenty-seven inches out of the ground. The bails shall be each four inches in length, and when in position, on the top of the stumps, shall not project more than half an inch above them. The wickets shall not be changed during a match, unless the ground between them becomes unfit for play, and then only by consent of both sides.

7. The Bowling Crease shall be in a line with the stumps ; eight feet eight inches in length ; the stumps in the centre with a return crease at each end, at right angles behind the wicket.

8. The Popping Crease shall be marked four feet from the wicket, parallel to it, and be deemed unlimited in length.

9. The ground shall not be rolled, watered, covered, mown, or beaten during a match, except before the commencement of each innings and of each day's play, when, unless the in-side object, the ground shall be swept and rolled for not more than ten minutes. This shall not prevent the batsman from beating the ground with his bat, nor the batsman nor bowler from using sawdust in order to obtain a proper foothold.

10. The ball must be bowled ; if thrown or jerked, either umpire shall call "No ball."

11. The Bowler shall deliver the ball with one foot on the ground behind the bowling crease, and within the return crease, otherwise the umpire shall call "No Ball."

12. If the bowler shall bowl the ball so high over or so wide of the wicket that in the opinion of the umpire it is not within reach of the striker, the umpire shall call "Wide ball."

13. The ball shall be bowled in overs of six balls from each wicket alternately. When six balls have been bowled, and the ball is finally settled in the bowler's or wicket-keeper's hands, the umpire shall call "Over." Neither a "no ball" nor "wide ball" shall be reckoned as one of the "over."

14. The bowler shall be allowed to change ends as often as he pleases, provided only that he does not bowl two overs consecutively in one innings.

15. The bowler may require the batsman at the wicket from which he is bowling to stand on that side of it which he may direct.

16. The striker may hit a "no ball," and whatever runs result shall be added to his score; but he shall not be out from a "no ball" unless he be run out or break Laws 26, 27, 29, 30. All runs made from a "no ball" otherwise than from the bat, shall be scored "no balls," and if no run be made one run shall be added to that score. From a "wide ball" as many runs as are run shall be added to the score as "wide balls," and if no run be otherwise obtained, one run shall be so added.

17. If the ball, not having been called "wide" or "no ball," pass the striker without touching his bat or person, and any runs be obtained, the umpire shall call "Bye"; but if the ball touch any part of the striker's person (hand excepted) and any runs be obtained, the umpire shall call "Leg Bye," such runs to be scored "byes" and "leg-byes" respectively

18. At the beginning of each match, and of each innings, the umpire at the bowler's wicket shall call "Play" ; from that time no trial ball shall be allowed to any bowler on the ground between the wickets, and when one of the batsmen is out the use of the bat shall not be allowed to any person until the next batsman shall come in.

19. A batsman shall be held to be "out of his ground" unless his bat in hand, or some part of his person, be grounded within the line of the popping crease.

20. The wicket shall be held to be "down" when either of the bails is struck off, or, if both bails be off, when a stump is struck out of the ground.

The Striker is out—

21. If the wicket be bowled down, even if the ball first touch the striker's bat or person :—"Bowled."

22. Or if the ball, from a stroke of the bat or hand, but not the wrist, be held before it touch the ground, although it be hugged to the body of the catcher :—"Caught."

23. Or, if in playing at the ball, provided it be not touched by the bat or hand, the striker be out of his ground, and the wicket be put down by the wicket-keeper with the ball, or with hand or arm with ball in hand :—"Stumped."

24. Or, if with part of his person he stop the ball, which in the opinion of the umpire at the bowler's wicket shall have been pitched in a straight line from it to the striker's wicket and would have hit it :—"Leg before wicket."

25. Or, if in playing at the ball, he hit down his wicket with his bat, or any part of his person or dress :—" Hit Wicket."

26. Or, if under pretence of running, or otherwise, either of the batsmen wilfully prevent a ball from being caught :—" Obstructing the Field."

27. Or, if the ball be struck or be stopped by any part of his person, and he wilfully strike it again, except it be done for the purpose of guarding his wicket, which he may do with his bat, or any part of his person except his hands :—" Hit the ball twice."

Either Batsman is out—

28. If in running, or at any other time, while the ball is in play, he be out of his ground, and his wicket be struck down by the ball after touching any fieldsman, or by the hand or arm, with ball in hand, of any fieldsman :—" Run Out."

29. Or, if he touch with his hands or take up the ball while in play, unless at the request of the opposite side :—" Handled the Ball."

30. Or, if he wilfully obstruct any fieldsman :—" Obstructing the field."

31. If the batsmen have crossed each other, he that runs for wicket which is put down is out ; if they have not crossed, he that has left the wicket that has been put down is out.

32. The striker being caught, no run shall be scored. A batsman being run out that run which was being attempted shall not be scored.

33A. A batsman being out from any cause, the ball shall be "dead."

33B. If the ball, whether struck by the bat or not, lodges in a batsman's clothing, the ball shall become "dead."

34. If a ball in play cannot be found or recovered, any fieldsman may call "Lost ball," when the ball shall be "dead"; six runs shall be added to the score; but if more than six runs have been run before "Lost ball" has been called, as many runs as have been run shall be scored.

35. After the ball shall have been finally settled in the wicket-keeper's or bowler's hand, it shall be "dead"; but when the bowler is about to deliver the ball, if the batsman at his wicket be out of his ground before actual delivery, the said bowler may run him out; but if the bowler throw at the wicket and any run result, it shall be scored "No ball."

36. A batsman shall not retire from his wicket and return to it to complete his innings after another has been in, without the consent of the opposite side.

57. A substitute shall be allowed to field or run between wickets for any player who may, during the match, be incapacitated from illness or injury, but for no other reason, except with the consent of the opposite side.

38. In all cases where a substitute shall be allowed, the consent of the opposite side shall be obtained as to the person to act as substitute, and the place in the field which he shall take.

39. In case any substitute shall be allowed to run between wickets, the striker may be run out if either he or his substitute be out of his ground. If the striker be out of his ground while the ball is in play, that wicket which he has left may be put down and the striker given out, although the other batsman may have made good the ground at that end, and the striker and his substitute at the other end.

b. A batsman is liable to be out for any infringement of the laws by his substitute.

41. The fieldsman may stop the ball with any part of his person, but if he wilfully stop it otherwise, the ball shall be "dead" and five runs added to the score; whatever runs may have been made, five only shall be added.

42. The wicket-keeper shall stand behind the wicket. If he shall take the ball for the purpose of stumping before it has passed the wicket, or, if he shall incommode the striker by any noise, or motion, or if any part of his person be over or before the wicket, the striker shall not be out, excepting under Laws 26, 27, 28, 29, and 30.

43. The umpires are the sole judges of fair or unfair play, of the fitness of the ground, the weather, and the light for play; all disputes shall be determined by them, and if they disagree, the actual state of things shall continue.

44. They shall pitch fair wickets, arrange boundaries where necessary, and the allowances to be made for them, and change ends after each side has had one innings.

45. They shall allow two minutes for each striker to come in and ten minutes between each innings. When they shall call "Play," the side refusing to play shall lose the match.

46. They shall not order a batsman out unless appealed to by the other side.

47. The umpire at the bowler's wicket shall be appealed to before the other umpire in all cases except in those of stumping, hit wicket, run out at the striker's wicket, or arising out of Law 42, but in any case in which an umpire is unable to give a decision, he shall appeal to the other umpire, whose decision shall be final.

48. If either umpire be not satisfied of the absolute fairness of the delivery of any ball, he shall call "No ball."

48A. The umpire shall take especial care to call "No ball" instantly upon delivery; "Wide ball" as soon as it shall have passed the striker.

49. If either batsman run a short run, the umpire shall call "One short," and the run shall not be scored.

50. After the umpire has called "Over" the ball is "dead," but an appeal may be made as to whether either batsman is out; such appeal, however, shall not be made after the delivery of the next ball, nor after any cessation of play.

51. No umpire shall be allowed to bet.

52. No umpire shall be changed during the match, unless with the consent of both sides, except in case of violation of Law 51; then either side may dismiss him.

53. The side which bats first and leads by 150 runs in a three days' match, or 100 runs in a two days' match, shall have the option of requiring the other side to follow their innings.

54. On or after the luncheon interval on the second day of a three days' match, the in-side may declare their innings at an end ; in a two days' match, on the second day, at any time.

ONE-DAY MATCHES.

1. The side which bats first and leads by 75 runs shall have the option of requiring the other side to follow their innings.

2. The match, unless played out, shall be decided by the first innings. Prior to the commencement of a match it may be agreed that the over consist of 5 or 6 balls.

3. At any time, the in-side may declare their innings at an end.

N.B.—A tie is included in the words "played out."

SINGLE WICKET.

The laws are, where they apply, the same as above, with the following alterations and additions :—

1. One wicket shall be pitched as in Law 6, with a bowling stump opposite to it, at a distance of twenty-two yards. The bowling crease shall be in a line with the bowling stump, and drawn according to Law 7.

2. When there shall be less than five players on a side, bounds shall be placed twenty-two yards each in a line from the off and leg stump.

3. The ball must be hit before the bounds to entitle the striker to a run, which run cannot be obtained unless he touch the bowling stump or crease in a line with his bat, or some part of his person, or go beyond them, and return to the popping crease.

4. When the striker shall hit the ball, one of his feet must be on the ground behind the popping crease, otherwise the umpire shall call "No hit," and no run shall be scored.

5. When there shall be less than five players on a side, neither byes, leg-byes, nor overthrows shall be allowed, nor shall the striker be caught out behind the wicket, nor stumped.

6. The fieldsman must return the ball so that it shall cross the ground between the wicket and the bowling stump, or between the bowling stump and the bounds; the striker may run till the ball be so returned.

7. After the striker shall have made one run, if he start again he must touch the bowling stump or crease, and turn before the ball cross the ground to entitle him to another.

8. The striker shall be entitled to three runs for lost ball, and the same number for ball wilfully stopped by a fieldsman otherwise than with any part of his person.

9. When there shall be more than four players on a side there shall be no bounds. All hits, byes, leg-byes, and overthrows shall then be allowed.

10. There shall be no restrictions as to the ball being bowled in overs, but no more than one minute shall be allowed between each ball.

INSTRUCTIONS TO UMPIRES.

THESE Instructions, drawn up by the Committee of the M.C.C., are intended as an appendix to the Laws of the Game.

FITNESS OF GROUND.

Law 43.—At the commencement of a match, the umpires may be appealed to by either side as to the fitness of the ground for play.

Should they not agree, play will not commence until they are agreed.

In case of interruption from rain, as soon as the rain has ceased, the umpires shall, immediately, without further instruction, inspect the wicket, unaccompanied by any of the players, and decide upon its fitness. Should it prove unfit, they shall continue to inspect at intervals, until they decide that it is fit for play, when they shall call upon the players to resume the game.

The ground is unfit for play—when water stands on the surface, or when it is so wet, muddy, or slippery as to deprive the bowlers of a reasonable foothold or the fieldsmen of the power of free movement.

The umpires are not to be biassed by the opinions of either side, still less are they to allow themselves to be influenced by the impatience of the spectators for a resumption of the game, and are not to be induced, by the public interest in a particular match, to declare the ground fit for play, unless they would consider that ground fit under any circumstances.

FITNESS OF LIGHT FOR PLAY.

The umpires may decide, on appeal, that there is not sufficient light for play. Should the light improve before the time for drawing stumps, they shall, without waiting for instructions, call upon the players to resume the game.

In the event of the captains agreeing as to the condition of the ground or light, the umpires will, so far, be relieved of their responsibility.

Law 47.—An umpire is only justified in appealing to the other umpire when he is unable to decide, owing to his having been prevented from seeing the occurrence on which the appeal is based. He is not to appeal to the other umpire in cases on which he could give a decision, merely because he is unwilling to give that decision. If he be in any doubt, the principle laid down in Law 43, "That the existing state of things shall continue," shall be followed, and, in consequence, the decision shall be in favour of the batsman.

Law 48.—The special attention of umpires is called to this law, which directs them to call "no ball," unless absolutely satisfied of the fairness of the delivery.

Umpires should not allow themselves to be unduly influenced by appeals from such of the field who were not in a position to form a judgment on the point appealed upon, or by tricks such as throwing up the ball, on appealing for a catch at the wicket, without waiting for the decision. Umpires being the sole judges of fair or unfair play, should remember that such devices are obviously unfair, and are not in accordance with the spirit in which cricket should be played.

DECLARING (see Law 54).

(a) If a side declare its innings during the luncheon interval, it must do so within 15 minutes after the commencement of such interval, otherwise an extra ten minutes will be allowed for rolling.

(b) If a side declare its innings closed in the morning before play commences, it must do so in sufficient time to enable the other side to choose the roller it prefers, otherwise an extra ten minutes will be allowed for rolling.

CODE OF SIGNALLING.

Boundaries shall be signalled by waving the hand from side to side. Byes shall be signalled by raising the open hand above the head. Leg-byes shall be signalled by raising the leg and touching it with the hand.

Wides shall be signalled by extending both arms horizontally.

No-balls shall be signalled by extending one arm horizontally.

The decision "out" shall be signalled by raising the index finger above the head.

Umpires should wait until a signal has been answered by the scorer before allowing the game to proceed.

Besides the signalling, the umpire should "call" distinctly for the information of the players.

On giving a decision the umpire should make sure that the batsman understands what the decision is.

What to Use for Cricket and Where to Get It

This is the question put to every cricketer in the United States. His answer is: "Go to A. G. Spalding & Bros. You will see and know more in five minutes than I can tell you in a day."

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have every requisite for the game. They lay themselves out for the sport and you can get supplied with everything you require. No need to think of sending abroad. Their stock is as complete as if you were in London, and of a quality unsurpassable. Messrs. A. G. Spalding & Bros. guarantee satisfaction to every customer. You can safely place yourself in their hands and will get treated with the utmost consideration. Their business integrity well commends them to the foremost position in the sports of the world.

Well, the first consideration of every cricketer is, "Where can I get a first-class bat?" and the answer: "At A. G. Spalding & Bros.," as they manufacture in their London factory the best cricket bats that ever came into the United States.

With the advent of the Spalding cricket bat factory, situated at Putney, England, the greatest development of the long driving bat came into the cricketing world under the direction of the world-famed cricketer, Tom Haywood of the Surrey eleven.

The questions naturally arise: What is the virtue that A. G. Spalding Century Bat holds over others? Wherein lies the difference? Well, a word or two on this subject will explain itself.

There was a time, and that within the memory of older cricketers, when bats were nearly as round in the face as the back thereof, and one could not tell at a glance which was which. Bats which were made from the closest grained wood were considered the choicest of all; the blades, in fact, could not have too many grain marks running down the face; the closer they were the better the bat was considered, as proving the older the wood and naturally the harder. Now it is the reverse. The quicker the willow is grown and the younger the tree the better. Instead of the closest grain it is the widest. Instead of the inner clefts the outer are considered the choicest. The nearer the bark the better the cleft. The wider the grain the better the life and resiliency of the wood.

One can now gather from the foregoing remarks, that, to have a first-class blade one must get it from the nearest cut to the bark, and that being the case, it will be noticed that a trunk can only turn out a limited number of first-class clefts. The further the clefts are taken from the outside, consequently, the cheaper the bat, so that a trunk will yield all classes and all prices of bats.

Experience has taught cricketers flat to drive a ball there must be substance at the back of it and it is to Tom Hayward that the greatest credit is due for the development of the Spalding Bat—the bat of the present day. Instead of the round face as of old the face now is fairly flat, but the greatest change is seen in the amount of wood that is in the bat and, particularly in the back, about six inches from the bottom, one would say it had developed itself abnormally, as the thickness through is absolutely double that of the old fashioned bats. Where they used to compress all the cleft, now the face is only, and that leaves a large amount of wood with its natural spring to drive the ball, hence, the easier the stroke and the better the balance attained.

So much for blades. The handle now is the vital consideration. From the old all-cane splice, we have now the patent handles, with their anti-stinging preventive. There are a good many of these in the market. The main idea being to allay the stinging propensity. Many a good blade is absolutely ruined by having a handle in it that renders the bat unfit to use, though the fault is found particularly among the "all-canes," no matter how carefully they are made. This drawback has been entirely overcome in A. G. Spalding & Bros.' patent handles, which are now in use in the famous Century and Grand Prix bats. Their combination handle has a resiliency which, in the hands of a batsman, gives a "verve" to its action, that cannot be surpassed by any other make of bat extant. While they give you the protection, they at the same time add to the comfort of play and ease in getting the results required, which makes these bats undoubtedly the finest achievement that has been accomplished in the bat-making world.

We have bats ranging from 35 ounces to 40 ounces in these two qualities. Suitable for heavy players, with weight behind them, and also for the lighter wristed, who have to depend on their finesse, ranging from 30 to 35 ounces, quick in action and balanced to a hair-breadth, responding to the absolute touch.

From the foregoing remarks cricketers can see A. G. Spalding & Bros. have spared no expense to further the sport. Consequently they hold the premier place in the cricketing world, both at home and in Great Britain at the present day.

So great has the demand been growing for these bats with the cricketers in Australia that A. G. Spalding & Bros. have found it absolutely necessary to establish a large branch there and opened same in Sydney in November, 1908.

The junior members have not been overlooked. We have also in stock, quite a selection in small men's bats, Century Bats at $4.00; all-cane at $2.75.

Real live cricketers are getting alive to the fact that the demand for high class bats is so great that unless they look sharp they will be left out in the cold. A. G. Spalding & Bros. are also alive to this fact, and being wishful to give every one of their numerous customers a chance are offering intending purchasers the privilege of coming in at once to select their bats, and on the deposit of $1.00 to reserve their chosen bat for them, undertaking to oil and hand over the same in the finest condition possible when required.

As all the Spalding bats are made in London a great deal of time is taken up in ordering and getting delivery of same, and intending purchasers will at once see the advantage and avail themselves of the above offer, which not only applies to bats but to all cricket goods now in stock.

Before leaving the subject of bats perhaps it will be as well to say a few words on the abuse of a bat. A great many are under the impression that a bat, and particularly a select one, is good for any amount of play. While that is correct in one way it is erroneous in another, and to expect any bat to be used by a whole club, we shall say, and stand good, is an impossibility. In the first instance no two cricketers hit the same way, and every member wants to try the new bat, with the result that too much work is put on it and instead of gradually hardening it down to its work it is twisted here by one and slogged about by another until at last the bat cannot stand the strain and bursts up.

In England, the home of cricket, bats are not so treated. Every cricketer owns his own and when he purchases same chooses one suitable for his own special use, one that the balance and weight exactly suits his style and to him becomes an object of his special attention. Under no pretext whatever will he allow it out of his keeping, first taking it out to practice with, taking care that old balls are used, gives the bat half an hour at the nets, not trying to see how far he can drive a ball, but gently getting into the feel of the bat and gradually extending himself until he is master of it, and he and it become as one and are inseparable. To try to borrow that bat is an unpardonable offence, for the cricketer knows it would mean its immediate destruction, as the different action of another player invariably proves fatal. It is quite a common thing and characteristic of every lover of cricket to keep his old friends that he has passed so many pleasant days with and you will find at his home all his bats that have proved themselves worthy occupying the most prominent position in his smoke room and on each bat is written their and his record of conquests won.

While it is important that every cricketer possesses his own bat it is also important that he sees that the same is well seasoned and not only that, but it is always recommended and advisable to have a new bat taped across its most vital parts, as it is a great help to its hardening down, after which time it can be taken off. A. G. Spalding & Bros. are advancing this important scheme to such an extent that they undertake to tape either of their superior class of bats, viz., the Hayward Century and the Grand Prix, free of charge.

They have also brought to the front for the benefit of those cricketers who like to attend to their own bats or who reside at a distance and cannot get them repaired as quickly as desired a Complete Amateur Outfit, comprising a bottle of special oil, tape, finish, brush, liquid glue, wooden pegs and brad awl, put up in neat small box, price 50 cents. No cricketer should be without this, as first aid or a little damage caught in time often saves the life of a bat.

The most important item is the ball. These we have in all qualities from the Composition at 50 cents up to the Treble Sewn All Leather, 5½ ounces. The Grand Prix, $2.00, is the best cricket ball made, and when you are informed that A. G. Spalding & Bros. have had not a single one returned or a complaint made is sufficient testimony of itself. The County Match, at $1.75, and the Favorite Match, at $1.50, are splendid balls and well worth the money.

Another important item and one of great consequence is the pitch. In this country, where ground is so scarce and pitches hard to get (this is undoubtedly the greatest deterrent to the advance of cricket here), cricketers have to put up with what they can catch. Often the ground, through lack of space (there being no room to change the pitch), gets cut up and hardly fit to play an important match on. This can be easily obviated by the judicious use of cocoanut matting during practice, and A. G. Spalding & Bros. have imported these in 6-foot widths, green in color, and the length of the pitch, without a seam in the center, which preserves the good pitch and turns an indifferent one into a pleasureable ground and, as in the case of some where there is no grass to speak of, renders the ground a thoroughly practical place and, in fact, according to Mr. A. E. Leaca of the Elizabeth (N. J.) Cricket Club, the success of his club, which gained both the batting and bowling averages in the New Jersey State League, was attributed to this acquisition. "Without this," he said, when addressing a large meeting of cricketers at Newark, "they undoubtedly would not have reached the high standard they did."

The next items of interest to the cricketer are pads. In this A. G. Spalding & Bros. have given their untiring attention. While eight or nine different styles are carried, the main object in each has been to secure lightness with sufficient protection and in their various sizes to fit all. Others, such as the Hayward Record, have extra pads on the inside of the knee and extending over the calf on the inside of the right and outside of the left leg and is considered the most efficient of all. Another invaluable leg guard and most suitable for wicket keepers is the No. 5, with three rolls at the knee and made with continuous lacing strap or with elastics, as well as strapping in the usual manner, with the Century and Oxford, which latter is ventilated, comprises the Spalding list of solid buckskin. Then for lightness and ventilation the Grand Prix skeleton leg guard, in both white buck and gold cape, are excellent for coolness in the warm weather.

In batting gloves there is a great variety, the County Match being a great favorite, and is closely followed by the Surrey Shields, while for lightness and protection there is nothing can beat A. G. Spalding & Bros.' Featherweight, horse hair stuffed glove. This is undoubtedly the most popular of all batting gloves, each pair weighing only $4\frac{1}{2}$ ounces, while the ordinary glove with rubber protected fingers weighs from 10 to 11 ounces. In comparing the weight of one with the other and getting sufficient protection for the hand the rapidity and ease with which the bat can be handled has made this the most popular batting glove that has ever appeared throughout England and is well worthy of the success it has attained.

Wicket keeping gloves have now to be considered by the cricketer. Of these there are many varieties, from the buckskin padded face with crocheted, ventilated backs to the MacGregor with rubber palms and strong gold cape backs, all good styles and serviceable gloves, to the softer, fuller padded American style at $4.00 and $5.00, but the one that appeals to all is Spalding's "Stumper." This is without doubt the acme of perfection and is a brown glove with pure Para rubber face and rubber finger cups or tips inserted inside of the fingers, forming a perfect protection to the finger ends and also fastens at the back with a strap and buckle so as to give the secure feeling that is a great help to the wicket keepers, promptness and precision in bringing about the desired results from which the glove derives its name, viz., "The Stumper."

Before leaving this subject there is another important item to mention, viz., cricket bags. A most important part of the paraphernalia of the cricketer, which has been most neglected of all and is one of the most essential, conducing to the enjoyment of the sport in no little degree. What cricketer is there that does not know the inconvenience of carrying a suit case in one hand and his bat in the other, the flurry of getting through the streets of cities thus incommoded and perhaps a long tramp to the cricket ground, arriving there with a harassed look and the appearance of a regular "globe trotter?" The annoyance of this is calculated to cast a damper on the commencement of the day's sport and again, after the match the usual packing up, seizing of grips and off as quickly as possible to get rid of the incumbrance.

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have taken this matter up in the same effectual manner as heretofore and imported a choice selection of cricket bags that will meet the requirements of every one. Instead of the ineffectual grip and bat case, we have the one convenient and handy bag, for private use, capable of holding bat, leg guards, gloves, shoes, shirts, pants, etc., in carpet, with augmented bottom, at \$6.00, and solid cowhide at \$13.50, a really first-class, handsomely finished bag and most suitable for presentation. Then for clubs we have the larger carpet at \$7.00 in various colors, and solid cowhide, with continuous straps and double handle, at \$16.00, making a splendid bag for club purposes. Then the ideal bag is No. 15, solid cowhide, kit shape, $36 \times 17\frac{1}{2} \times 12$ inches, with strong handle at each end, most suitable for touring and the finest club bag possible to obtain, at \$30.00.

Messrs. A. G. Spalding & Bros. would like to draw the attention of their numerous customers to the fact that they have skilled workmen in their employ for the repairing of cricket bats, such as reblading, rehandling, splicing, taping and lapping, at moderate charges and with expediency.

Messrs. A. G. Spalding & Bros. also make a very favorable offer to cricketers and clubs. They undertake to store and guarantee to keep well oiled throughout the whole winter all cricket bats at a nominal charge of 50 cents each, which offer includes to clubs all their other paraphernalia, such as pads, gloves, etc. Besides this, there is another great advantage the cricketers get, and that is the repairs are done in the quiet season and are more minutely examined and attended to than can be done in the rush of the season.

Again another offer A. G. Spalding & Bros. make, and that is that intending purchasers can come at any time and on the deposit of $1.00 select a Hayward Century or any other bat and have it put aside and oiled until such time as he requires it, when on payment of the balance the bat is handed over to him in perfect condition and ready for immediate play. All cricket clubs should make a note of this and come to select their bats during the winter for the following season.

Spalding's also undertakes to import from Britain cloth made up in club colors for cricket blazers and caps and make same up with badge, to measure, on orders of one dozen and over, at reasonable prices, for which they will be glad to quote specially.

In cricket shoes there is the Special Spalding Cricket Shoe, No. 0, high cut, white canvas, with reinforced soles, spring heels and blunt spikes, of the best selected leather, at $5.00, and one, No. CC, at $4.00.

As there are other sundries, such as belts, sox, etc., too numerous to mention, it would be advisable for every cricketer who has not already done so to forward his name and address and A. G. Spalding & Bros. will forward one of their catalogues for perusal, along with other items of interest to the cricketer as they appear, free of charge. To save time address the nearest Spalding store, a list of which is given on the inside front cover of this book.

With a Spalding bat similar to this one, Warren Bardsley made the unprecedented record of scoring two separate centuries, 136 and 130, on August 9, 10, and 11, 1909, in the test match at Kensington Oval.

Some Record Bats

The bats became so famous that the whole Australian team visiting Britain were conspicuous by their absolute adoption of the Hayward bat, the inscription on the bat, which is shown on the left side of the page, reading "Australian XI. v. South African XI., 1910-1911," with the following names appended:

V. Trumper	W. W. Armstrong
C. Kelleway	Clem Hill
Albert Cotter	C. G. Macartney
Warren C. Bardsley	H. V. Hordern
H. Carter	V. S. Ransford
D. R. A. Gehrs	W. J. Whitty

Africa has also added its testimony to the good qualities of the Spalding bat, as the following letter will show:

SOUTH AFRICAN CRICKET TEAM IN AUSTRALIA.

SYDNEY, Feb. 25, 1911.

MESSRS. A. G. SPALDING & BROS.

GENTLEMEN:

With regard to the cricketing material supplied by you to the South African Cricket Team, we have pleasure in informing you that we have found same excellent, and that it has given every satisfaction.

Yours faithfully,

amines every bat, and each one is stamped with his signature.

The Blades of these bats are made from the best willow procurable, and are well seasoned. They are clear, straight grain, well wooded in the right place, and perfect in shape and balance.

The Handles are made from the best cane, specially compressed with three strips of pure Para rubber running through them, which gives the bat excellent spring and great driving power.

"This is the bat with which I made 136 and 130 for Australia vs. England, at Kennington Oval, August 9, 10, 11, 1909. WARREN BARDSLEY."

"I have also made the following scores with a Spalding Bat: 63, 76, 63 (not out), 219, 108, 118, 211."

PERSONAL SELECTION

Many players like to go over a stock of bats until they find one that just suits them in weight and balance. This may be done at any Spalding store, the large assortment which we carry at all times in stock making it possible for us to suit exactly in every case. An extra charge will be made for this special service.

All Spalding Cricket Bats are uniform in finish and quality of material in each grade. "Personal Selection" refers simply to weight and balance, our bats being made in a great variety of weights, in which the balance also varies.

October 4, 1909.

Messrs. A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,
124-128 Nassau Street, New York City.

Dear Sirs: I wish to thank you for the ball you sent me on Saturday and which we used in the International Soccer Match (Pilgrims of England vs. All New York) at Staten Island Cricket Club Grounds, Saturday, October 2d. It gave perfect satisfaction and held its shape well. I trust you will have great success in your sales. I feel sure clubs cannot do better than buy this ball. Yours very truly,

HARRY MANLEY,
Chairman Staten Island Foot Ball Club,
President New York State Foot Ball Association.

Chicago, October 23, 1909

Messrs. A. G. SPALDING & BROS.,
147 Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Illinois.

Gentlemen: We have used your Official Association Foot Ball for our games played in the United States, and have found this ball to be perfectly satisfactory in every respect. Yours truly,

FRED H. MILNES,
Captain-Manager "Pilgrims" Foot Ball Club, England.

WE GUARANTEE every Spalding Foot Ball to be perfect in material and workmanship and correct in shape and size when inspected at our factory. If any defect is discovered during the first game in which it is used or during the first day's practice use, and if returned at once, we will replace same under this guarantee. We do not guarantee against ordinary wear nor against defect in shape or size that is not discovered immediately after the first day's use. Owing to the superb quality of every Spalding Foot Ball, our customers have grown to expect a season's use of one ball, and at times make unreasonable claims under our guarantee, which we will not allow.

SPALDING MIDGET DIMPLE GOLF BALL

Heavy Weight, Small Size.
Per Dozen, $9.00

THE LONG DISTANCE
WONDER OF TWO CONTINENTS

From January AMERICAN GOLFER (British Correspondent).

"A new ball is now on the market in this country and has been for about six weeks (although it has not got about everywhere just yet, owing to the winter season being on) which undoubtedly goes farther and gives much longer carries from both wood and iron clubs than any other we have had. Some most wonderful things have been done with it in private and I have just had a letter from an amateur friend of some renown, one who has won the amateur championship in recent years, in which he tells me in a way that I cannot doubt of some most extraordinary things that he has done himself and has seen done with this ball. He saw a professional carry 220 yards against the wind, and there was a wall to carry, too, at the end. With the same wind—that is, reversing the direction—he carried 260 yards. Another professional did between 260 and 280 yards in carry on to a green that had never before been driven. It was at the top of a steep hill, and was flanked with long grass. The amateur himself, with a rather straight-faced mid-iron, made a carry of 180 yards against a wind—one that was not a very strong wind but strong enough to prevent the ball running for more than from five to ten yards. There was no doubt about the length of the carry, because the hole was on the edge of the cliff, and that length had to be done. This ball is one of the very small variety, it has the dimple marking, and it is heavier than any golf ball that has ever been produced and put on the market so far. It is going to create a sensation next season."

This article has reference to the "Midget Dimple" Golf Ball.

The Dimple marking is controlled by A. G. Spalding & Bros.
under patent dated February 4, 1908.

Durand-Steel Lockers

Wooden lockers are objectionable, because they attract vermin, absorb odors, can be easily broken into, and are dangerous on account of fire.

Lockers made from wire mesh or expanded metal afford little security, as they can be easily entered with wire cutters. Clothes placed in them become covered with dust, and the lockers themselves present a poor appearance, resembling animal cages.

Durand-Steel Lockers are made of finest grade furniture steel and are finished with gloss black, furnace-baked japan (400°), comparable to that used on hospital ware, which will never flake off nor require refinishing, as do paints and enamels.

Some of the 6,000 Durand-Steel Lockers installed in Public Cymnasiums of Chicago. 12'x 15'x 42", Double Tier.

Durand-Steel Lockers are usually built with doors perforated full length in panel design with wire mesh on backs solid. This prevents clothes in one locker from coming in contact with wet garments in adjoining lockers, while plenty of ventilation is secured by having the doors perforated its entire length, but, if the purchaser prefers, we perforate the backs also.

The cost of Durand-Steel Lockers is no more than that of first-class wooden lockers, and they last as long as the building, are sanitary, secure, and in addition, are fire-proof.

THE FOLLOWING STANDARD SIZES ARE THOSE MOST COMMONLY USED

DOUBLE TIER	SINGLE TIER
12 x 12 x 36 inch	12 x 12 x 60
15 x 15 x 36 inch	15 x 15 x 60
12 x 12 x 42 inch	12 x 12 x 72
15 x 15 x 42 inch	15 x 15 x 72

SPECIAL SIZES MADE TO ORDER

We are handling lockers as a special contract business, and shipment will in any case be made direct from the factory in Chicago. If you will let us know the number of lockers, size and arrangement, we shall be glad to take up, through correspondence, the matter of prices.

Standard Policy

A Standard Quality must be inseparably linked to a Standard Policy.

Without a definite and Standard Mercantile Policy, it is impossible for a manufacturer to iong maintain a Standard Quality.

To market his goods through the jobber, a manufacturer must provide a profit for the jobber as well as the retail dealer. To meet these conditions of Dual Profits, the manufacturer is obliged to set a proportionately high list price on his goods to the consumer.

To enable the glib salesman, when booking his orders, to figure out attractive profits to both the jobber and retailer, these high list prices are absolutely essential; but their real purpose will have been served when the manufacturer has secured his order from the jobber, and the jobber has secured his order from the retailer.

However, these deceptive high list prices are not fair to the consumer, who does not, and, in reality, is not ever expected to pay these fancy list prices.

When the season opens for the sale of such goods, with their misleading but alluring high list prices, the retailer begins to realize his responsibilities, and grapples with the situation as best he can, by offering "special discounts," which vary with local trade conditions.

Under this system of merchandising, the profits to both the manufacturer and the jobber are assured; but as there is no stability maintained in the prices to the consumer, the keen competition amongst the local dealers invariably leads to a demoralized cutting of prices by which the profits of the retailer are practically eliminated.

This demoralization always reacts on the manufacturer. The jobber insists on lower, and still lower, prices. The manufacturer, in his turn, meets this demand for the lowering of prices by the only way open to him, viz.: the cheapening and degrading of the quality of his product.

The foregoing conditions became so intolerable that, 12 years ago, in 1899, A. G. Spalding & Bros. determined to rectify this demoralization in the Athletic Goods Trade, and inaugurated what has since become known as "The Spalding Policy."

The "Spalding Policy" eliminates the jobber entirely, so far as Spalding Goods are concerned, and the retail dealer secures his supply of Spalding Athletic Goods direct from the manufacturer under a restricted retail price arrangement by which the retail dealer is assured a fair, legitimate and certain profit on all Spalding Athletic Goods, and the consumer is assured a Standard Quality and is protected from imposition.

The "Spalding Policy" is decidedly for the interest and protection of the users of Athletic Goods, and acts in two ways:

FIRST—The user is assured of genuine Official Standard Athletic Goods, and the same fixed prices to everybody.

SECOND—As manufacturers, we can proceed with confidence in purchasing at the proper time, the very best raw materials required in the manufacture of our various goods, well ahead of their respective seasons, and this enables us to provide the necessary quantity and absolutely maintain the Spalding Standard of Quality.

All retail dealers handling Spalding Athletic Goods are required to supply consumers at our regular printed catalogue prices—neither more nor less—the same prices that similar goods are sold for in our New York, Chicago and other stores.

All Spalding dealers, as well as users of Spalding Athletic Goods, are treated exactly alike, and no special rebates or discriminations are allowed to anyone.

Positively, nobody; not even officers, managers, salesmen or other employes of A. G. Spalding & Bros., or any of their relatives or personal friends, can buy Spalding Athletic Goods at a discount from the regular catalogue prices.

This, briefly, is the "Spalding Policy," which has already been in successful operation for the past 12 years, and will be indefinitely continued.

In other words, "The Spalding Policy" is a "square deal" for everybody.

Standard Quality

An article that is universally given the appellation "Standard" is thereby deemed to be the Criterion, to which are compared all other things of a similar nature. For instance, the Gold Dollar of the United States is the Standard unit of currency, and it must legally contain a specific proportion of pure gold, and the fact of its being Genuine is guaranteed by the Government Stamp thereon. As a protection to the users of this currency against counterfeiting and other tricks, considerable money has been expended in maintaining a Secret Service Bureau of Experts. Under the law, citizen manufacturers must depend to a great extent upon Trade-Marks and similar devices to protect themselves against counterfeit products—without the aid of "Government authorities" or "Public Opinion" to assist them.

Consequently the "Consumer's Protection" against misrepresentation and "inferior quality" rests entirely upon the integrity and responsibility of the "Manufacturer."

A. G. Spalding & Bros. have, by their rigorous attention to "Quality," for thirty years, caused their Trade-Mark to become known throughout the world as a guarantee of Quality as dependable in their field as the U. S. Currency is in its field.

The necessity of upholding the guarantee of the Spalding Trade-Mark and maintaining the Standard Quality of their Athletic Goods, is, therefore, as obvious as is the policy of the Government in maintaining a Standard Currency.

Thus each consumer is not only insuring himself but also protecting other consumers when he assists a Reliable Manufacturer in upholding his Trade-Mark and all it stands for. Therefore, we urge all users of our Athletic Goods to assist us in maintaining the Spalding Standard of Excellence, by insisting that our Trade-Mark be clearly stamped on all athletic goods which they buy, because without this precaution the best efforts towards maintaining Standard Quality and preventing fraudulent substitution will be ineffectual.

Manufacturers of Standard Articles invariably suffer the reputation of being overpriced, and this sentiment is fostered and emphasized by makers of "inferior goods," with whom low prices are the main consideration.

A manufacturer of recognized Standard Goods, with a reputation to uphold and a guarantee to protect, must necessarily have higher prices than a manufacturer of cheap goods, whose idea of and basis for a claim for Standard Quality depends principally upon the eloquence of the salesman.

We know from experience that there is no quicksand more unstable than poverty and inferior quality—and we avoid this quicksand by Standard Quality.
